Burglars Hit Six Firms, 4 Homes

Three Churches Also Broken Into During Holiday Weekend

Burglars were active in a series of holiday weekend break-ins at six Quad-City area commercial establishments, four residences and three churches. An undetermined amount of cash was taken at one of the churches.

A burglar who entered the Ben Franklin store, 1439 Third street, Madison, early Sunday obtained 56 watches, $20 in quarters, luggage and a rack of women's clothing.

Entry was gained by tearing out a rear window and its steel frame. The break-in was reported by a neighbor shortly before 9 a.m. Sunday.

Breaking out a panel in the door of a burglar at the store of Chick Wilson, 1100 Calhoun street, Venice, early Saturday took $35 in coins and a 22-caliber revolver and damaged a pinball machine.

Office Equipment Stolen
Burglars broke a window at the office building of Metal Goods, Inc., at the Fox Industrial Park, Madison, between Wednesday evening and Friday morning and took office equipment, cash and a quantity of food, Madison police reported.

James Murphy, vice-president of the company, told officers an electric typewriter valued at $250 to $300, three adding machines, $35 in cash, several cigarette lighters and food from a cooler.

A coin box was pried off of a washer and about $10 in quarters was removed in a burglary at the Monday Maid laundry, 2247 Madison avenue, it was reported Wednesday. It was reported that the thefts had been occurring every other night for about two weeks.

Arc Welder Stolen
A large gasoline-powered arc welder mounted on wheels was stolen in a burglary at the Jiffy car wash, 1506 Madison avenue, after Wednesday, it was reported at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Ratchets, sockets and other tools valued at a total of $50 were taken by a burglar at Lester White's Whitey's Barber Shop, 14th street and Washington street, Madison, police discovered at 9:45 a.m. Sunday while investigating vandalism at the nearby Apostolic Pentecostal Church, 14th and Iowa streets.

A door of White's building had been kicked in and broken. At the church, drawers were ransacked, a window was broken.

Mrs. Rehms, 61, Venice Teacher, Dies Early Today

Mrs. Claribel Rehms (nee Rynearson), 61, of 614 Lincoln avenue, a Venice school teacher for the past 30 years, died at 3 a.m. today at Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis. She was stricken with a stroke a week ago when she moved to Venice. She taught the fifth grade in the Venice elementary school.

A native of Columbus, Ky., Mrs. Rehms had resided in Clayton, Mo., until three years ago when she moved to Venice. She taught the fifth grade in the Venice elementary school.

Mrs. Rehms was a member of Venice Methodist Church and Delta Kappa Gamma, Modern Study Club and the Teachers Federation.

She is survived by her husband, August, a stepson, Chief Warrant Officer Richard A. Rehms of Fort Rucker, Ala.; and one brother, Fred Rynearson, of Decatur.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Some Job Openings Available at ISES

A few job openings are available in the Quad-City area, although most plants are not hiring at the present time, Malcolm A. Thompson, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service Office, reported today.

Among present openings are professional jobs such as mechanical, civil and electrical engineer, a plant foreman job requiring one year of supervisory experience and completion of military obligations; several technician trainee jobs which require high school graduation and mathematical aptitude.

Thompson said there also is a vacancy for cost clerk requiring one year of training in cost accounting, above high school level. In addition, several openings exist for trainees in the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Applicants must be 16 to 17 years old and be members of economically disadvantaged families.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the ISES at 877-8810 or applying in person at 2050 Iowa street.

Car Hits RR Gate

A car driven by Christ Goulias, 1335 Sixth street, Madison, skidded on a patch of ice on Broadway at the railroad tracks in Venice about 1 p.m. Wednesday, crashed into one of the railroad gates and damaged the electric signal, police reported. Goulias said he was eastbound on Broadway when his car began skidding and struck the gate. His car was damaged in excess of $100, officers said.

Workman Rescued in '07 Silo Blaze Identified

Memories continue to be stirred by the 63-year-old photograph, published in the Press-Record's Dec. 8 issue, showing a fire at Union Starch & Refining Co. as a local resident came to the newspaper office Friday and identifying the severely burned workman rescued from the structure as his father.

John Blackick, 2815 Cayuga street, said the workman trapped in the blazing silo and brought down a feeder pipe by Leo Walter, a heroic spectator, was indeed his father, Alex Blackick of Madison.

Mr. Blackick, who spent two years in hospital recovering from serious burns to the back,

Seven persons were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:45 p.m. Sunday following a traffic accident which occurred on Interstate 70 in East St. Louis.

Alphonzo Williams, five, son of Mrs. Wilma Williams, 1106 Market street, Venice, suffered contusions to the left cheek. He was released following X-rays.

Sarah Williams, 26, and her son, Timothy Williams, 4, four months, of Chicago, were examined and released.

Admitted was Mrs. Altae Rich, 28, of East St. Louis, who had a cut to the mouth, abrasions to the forehead and laceration of the right leg. X-rays were taken.

George Rich, 25, of East St. Louis, was released following treatment of a small cut to the forehead.

Others treated and released were Mrs. Alice Ward, 28, of Chicago, who had a swollen left eye and contusions and abrasions to the head, and her son, Don L. Ward, four, who had a swollen face.

Four treated here
Three members of the Jerome Weston family of Collinsville were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Saturday afternoon after being injured in a traffic accident.

His wife, Sherry, 21, suffered forehead cuts and right ankle and hip injuries and his son, Dale, seven months old, received abrasions to the forehead, right arm and both legs.

Weston was treated for cuts to the right eyebrow and left leg, and his head, right arm and both legs and right hand and knee. All were admitted to the hospital.

Joe Kenner, 40, Collinsville, was taken to the hospital for time for cuts and bruises to the nose, chest, knees and legs.

2 Hurt in Venice
A motorist and a passenger in his car were injured shortly after 5 p.m. Wednesday when their car crashed into the west divider on McKinley bridge, Venice, police reported.

Treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital were Otto Sandert, 43, driver of the car, and William Merriweather, 61, both of St. Louis. Both suffered face lacerations, officers said. Both men head and hands, died in 1959, at age 96.

Although his father never fully recovered from injuries suffered in the fire, which resulted in loss of an ear and crippling of both hands, his son recalls that eventually he began to work again. His last employment was as a mine coal plant operator, located at that time near the railroad tracks west of 22nd or 23rd street.

Several years afterwards, Alex Blackick purchased a small farm at Bismarck, Mo., which he operated until a few years before his death ten years ago.

Commenting on the general health of his father in later years, John Blackick said that on his 90th birthday, the elder Blackick expressed displeasure "because he could no longer jump a fence. Otherwise, he couldn't complain about his health," the son said.

There was some dispute on the age of the senior Blackick who may easily have been 104 years old, instead of 96, at the time of his death, John Blackick noted. He pointed out that his complete information recorded his father's birth in 1856, as well as other records denoting the date as 1863.

Hearing Set Next Monday On New Freeway in Area

A public hearing to consider the proposed improvement of the Madison freeway in Madison county will be held at 7:30 p.m.

next Monday, Jan. 5, in the Farm Bureau Building in Edwardsville. Public Works Director William F. Cellini is announcing.

The proposed freeway is one of several scheduled to be built in Illinois under Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's program to construct a 189-mile network of highways to supplement the interstate system.

Cellini said the public is invited to participate in the discussion. The proposed improvement to be discussed extends through the metropolitan area either to the west or east of the Quad-Cities and between East St. Louis and Alton.

This is a portion of the new supplemental freeway which will eventually serve the western part of the state from East St. Louis to Rock Island. This facility will have full control of access and be constructed to standards comparable to the interstate highways.

Maps showing the alternate locations being considered will be on display prior to, during and following the hearing for inspection by the public. Personnel of the District 8 highway office will be present to discuss the improvement with individuals prior to and after the hearing.

A map showing alternate locations is on display in the Farm Bureau Building in Edwardsville and in the district highway office, 9300 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis.

Local police and Madison county authorities, continuing their battle against drug abuse, are pointing out the penalties not only of the user but of the general public as well.

Residents of the Quad-Cities and the county are losing thousands of dollars a year as addicts turn to such crimes as robbery, shoplifting, burglary, forgery and prostitution to support their habits.

Money amounts cannot be placed on the cost to the public, but the number of crimes is increasing and a growing number of youths, some of whom come from well established families here, are being apprehended.

Education of youths, and their parents, as to the damaging effects of uncontrolled use of drugs and narcotics is being stressed by police.

Rebuilding of Port Warehouse To Start Soon

Cleanup work at the site of the fire-ravaged Bulk Service Co. warehouse at Tri-City Regional Port district has been completed and reconstruction of the $500,000 warehouse is expected to get underway immediately after the first of the year if weather permits.

Carl Ranft, port manager, said Friday.

Ranft said last week's snow and cold weather prevented an immediate beginning of construction work on the warehouse structure but arranged for the warehouse to be completed for beginning the work as soon as weather permits.

The warehouse building which was 200 x 500 feet and stood 75 feet high was almost completed and was to have been begun in operation Feb. 1 when fire of undetermined origin leveled the structure on the night of Dec. 14. The building is to be used by Bulk Service Co. of Riverdale, Ill., for storage of fuel and lubricants and will be connected with loading ramps at the port harbor on Chain of Rocks canal by a conveyor that spans the levee.

Bulk Service Co. plans to begin operations at the Tri-City Port on Feb. 1, however, using the riverfront section of the conveyor to load to river barges from railroad cars and trucks.

Ranft said Friday that work was continuing on installation of additional rail facilities at the port.

Burglars Blamed For $13,000 Fire Early Saturday

A fire believed to have been started by burglars caused $13,000 damage at the home of Richard Simpson, 2961 Iowa street, at 9:35 a.m. Saturday. No one was injured.

The loss included $8000 to the building and $5000 to the contents. Firemen were at the scene for 3½ hours.

The fire department reported that the house apparently had been burglarized when the arson was committed as some drawers were pulled out when firefighters arrived and some items were missing.

Simpson was at work at the Union division of Miles Laboratories and Mrs. Simpson is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The fire department said the property was fully insured.

708 To Use Tax Funds, Pick New Board Here

Interviews Six Job Applicants, Outlines Type of Board Sought

Believing that it eventually will qualify for matching state funds, the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board indicated during the weekend that it will use county tax funds and proceed to set up a new mental health program in the Quad-Cities, complete with a new local board.

Representatives of the Illinois State Department of Mental Health have said they would not recognize the 708 Board for direct operation of a clinic and instead will provide all of the operating funds needed to continue the existing center at 2024 State street if the old local board will keep it open.

It has operated in the past through the state and county financing, but the 708 Board is withholding county funds from it in retaliation for the old local board's refusal to let the executive director, Jerry Staten.

State officials say the resignation letter sent by the old board's chairman of the 708 Board, James H. Staten, is meaningless because the 708 lacks authority to deal with it. However, it was learned today that the board resignation effective Jan. 15 will be accepted and approved by the 708 Board prior to that date.

Chairman Favors Pastor
J. J. "Doc" Gramlich of Highland, a member of the Madison County Board of Supervisors and chairman of the 708 Board, confirmed reports that Rev. Paul Surber, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Chicago, is among applicants for the executive director's post.

"Personally, I would like to see J. J. Surber get the position," Gramlich told the Press-Record. "He is well qualified for the job and is a former chairman of the Quad-City board."

He denied, however that any decision as to selection of a new administrator would be made by the seven-member 708 Board and pointed out that "there are eight or nine applicants for the post," some of whom were interviewed by the 708 Board Saturday.

Next in line for the job is the interviews were conducted in the Labor Temple offices of Edwin Reiske, a 708 Board member, and Reiske said that "three of the applicants were unable to appear Saturday," Gramlich added.

Gramlich said he won't take any action on selection of a new clinic director until all of the applicants have been interviewed and the entire membership of the 708 Board can get together to consider the qualifications of those seeking the job," Gramlich said.

A meeting of the 708 board will be called soon, probably the latter part of this week, Gramlich said, noting that "we

Draft Quotas Delayed; 108 to Get Physicals

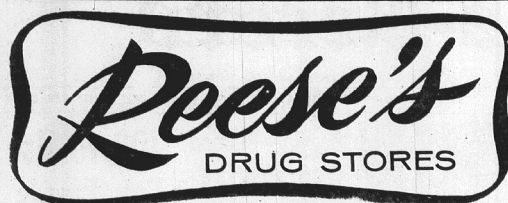

The number of men to be drafted from Madison county in January under the new lottery system will remain constant, but as quota information from state authorities has not yet been received at the county Selective Service office in Edwardsville, a spokesman said today.

The new procedure, however does not involve those who must report for physical examinations, it was learned. A total of 106 men from the Quad-Cities must undergo pre-induction physicals in Edwardsville on Thursday, Jan. 8, as part of a group of 276 men from all Madison county communities.

Those who are expected to be released on or about Jan. 5, the official said.

Larry G. Lackey, 38, Dies; Retired Officer

Larry G. Lackey, 38, of 82 Cambridge drive, who retired from the U. S. Army just five months ago, died following an apparent heart attack at 7:30 a.m. Friday at Bellevue Memorial Hospital, where he had been taken from home by his wife about one hour earlier. An inquest is pending.

A resident of Granite City for six years, Mr. Lackey retired in the past summer with the rank of chief warrant officer. He had served in the Army for 20 years, including several tours of duty overseas. His last post prior to retirement was at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Early in his career, Mr. Lackey had been stationed at the Granite City Army Depot. He was employed as a maintenance foreman at the Monsanto Co. plant in Sauget, Ill., and was a native of Cleveland county, N. C.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ursula Lackey; three sons, Gerald, 15, Glenn, 14, and Matthew, four years old, all at home; and his mother, Mrs. W. H. Edmondson of Charlotte, N. C.

Funeral services were held yesterday. Details are given in the obituary column.

Walter P. Slattery, Belleville, was charged with driving the wrong way on a one-way street, Cleveland Blvd., at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Neighborhood Groups Can Solve Own Youth Problems

The hope that new neighborhood advisory groups will be organized locally to work with youth in their specific residential areas was expressed this week by Don Hornberger of the Division of Community Services, State of Illinois Youth Commission.

At a "Conference on Youth," planned next month at the Tri-Cities YMCA, persons interested in the neighborhood adult committee approach to solving problems and the development of youth by those residing in the young person's own area can learn more about the basic organization of advisory groups. Noting that the IYC Division of Community Services works closely with small groups of people in developing effective projects and programs, Hornberger said the division strongly advocates the formation and continued support of committees, councils, associations and corporations at the grass roots level.

Importance of Areas

Miss Mary Blackburn, 1969 'Woman of Year'

Miss Mary Blackburn, a Granite City English, history, public speaking and drama teacher for 45 years until retiring in 1964, was chosen Friday as one of ten 1969 St. Louis Women of Achievement. Selected in the category of Youth Dedication, she will be honored at a luncheon Jan. 19 at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

A graduate of Washington University and the Perry School of Oratory in St. Louis, she began the speech program at Granite City high school in the 1920s, with eight students in the first class.

GCHS students under her direction won nationwide recognition, and dramatics students made yearly trips with her to New York and other cities. Present students attend summer speech institutes at Northwestern University through Mary Blackburn Speech Scholarships.

Miss Blackburn taught from 1964 until 1967 at McCluer high school, a few blocks from her home at 227 Olympia drive, Ferguson, where she resides with her sister, Miss Frances Blackburn. At McCluer she took charge of the sophomore play and spring musicals, and she continues to serve as a substitute teacher there.

She directs the Ferguson Community Players, heads the poetry section of the Wednesday club, leads adult tours of the U. S. or Europe each summer, and takes an active role in Delta Gamma, the First Presbyterian Church of Ferguson and the PEO.

neighborhood, Hornberger said. Events there are felt within the family, the church and the schools, all of which are tied closely together.

Once organized, such adult groups usually maintain association with the Division in an informal advisory capacity or through membership in the Illinois Federation of Community Committees, the IYC worker said.

He pointed out that action by the neighborhood groups in taking steps to deal with problems is most important. He cited familiarity with their own areas and less cause for friction than when an "outside" authority is employed to correct a situation.

"Today, as in no time in community history, the neighborhoods face staggering problems," Hornberger said. "We must work together in many areas to get things organized as the neighborhoods are in trouble."

Neighborhood Initiative
According to IYC theory, the answer lies in neighborhood groups taking the initiative, with the Division of Community Services advising when and where resources are available.

Hornberger cited the West Granite Youth Development group as an example. Now completing its third year of operation, the local committee has maintained its own budget and funds from its very inception, he said.

Those involved in the program have worked hard, he explained, using their free time—weekends and vacations—to organize and take part in carnivals and bazaars through which money was raised to fund projects and programs for neighborhood children.

Neighborhood committees can identify problem areas much faster, before it begins to mushroom, than even the most experienced and well trained, outside professional, Hornberger said.

Complete Autonomy
Such groups have complete autonomy, the IYC supervisor said. Never is a neighborhood committee told what it can or cannot do, he emphasized.

Groups assisted by the IYC truly represent the grass roots level without pressure or influence from a larger authority, he commented.

One example of cooperative venture is the Pontoon Beach Gators Teen Town, Hornberger said.

Originally sponsored by individual community leaders, it is now advised by a special body functioning through the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pontoon Beach volunteer police department.

Several volunteer police officers and their wives have established a successful community relations project through active operation of a teen dance each week.

The weekly social event also provides an opportunity for area teenagers to become acquainted with the law enforcement officers and their families, he noted.

"Invest in Youth"
Hornberger said, "the important point is, that this group has taken the time to invest in youth. The answer must come from those people who face the problem."

Similar neighborhood committees, using various approaches, have dealt with such problems in the past as poor recreational facilities, overcrowded housing, lagging educational opportunities, health and environmental problems, high unemployment, inadequate municipal services, family life and citizen apathy to conditions, to cite a few, Hornberger said.

"Looking to the future, we hope that new neighborhood leaders will step forward to organize informal groups to help work on community problems. Such committees build and insure success for the entire community at large," the IYC worker stressed.

"Expanding their roles and interest into community life in general is the reason that many neighborhood committees have become registered members of the Quad-Cities Social Concerns Council and the state-wide Illinois Federation of Community Committees," he commented.

Hornberger noted that both groups are strong resource affiliations for neighborhood committees that the Division of Community Services believes will further support the total community.

Cooperation Stressed
"Through this type of cooperation the volunteer groups can resolve their own problems and offer a tremendous investment in the community, because everyone eventually benefits from this kind of program, regardless in which neighborhood one resides," he added.

"We are anxious to extend the IYC's approach to new neighborhood groups. If a person wonders whether he fits into the picture take a look at these issues, rating them good-fair-poor:

"Family education services; parks, playgrounds and 'lots'; education services; streets, sidewalks and rubbish removal; schools, buildings and teachers; fire hazards and police protection; housing conditions; use of cars and bicycles; the number of aged people and the younger ones living in his area.

"Chances are, if you are not sure about the answers you are not alone. Perhaps your committee's first effort could be to discover and make known to others the resources available to you as part of the community," the IYC official emphasized.

"Remember—it is your neighborhood and you are the best person to find out what is going on and, if necessary, help solve its problems," Hornberger said.

Quad-Cities interested in the IYC's neighborhood program may call Hornberger at 398-0024, or 632-6030. Details on the youth conference, tentatively set for January, will be announced shortly, he said.

Car Hit from Rear

A car driven by George H. Davis, 1714 Edwardsville road, Madison, was damaged in the rear when struck by an auto driven by Ralph E. Long, 2569 Iowa street, about 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, police reported. Both cars were westbound on Broadway when Davis stopped to turn left into Seventh street, officers said. Long's car was undamaged.

Parked Car Damaged

A parked car owned by James Riddle, 417 Weaver street, Venice, was damaged in the left side when it was struck by a car driven by Jimmie Cooley, Chicago, Venice police reported at 6:35 p.m. Thursday. Cooley's car was undamaged. The mishap occurred in front of Riddle's home.

Miss Diane Henderson, Steven Fraley are Wed

MISS CYNTHIA DANEEN MEFFORD. Her engagement to Richard L. Bartling, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bartling, 2546 Pontoon road, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mefford, 3009 National avenue. A spring wedding is planned.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and blue chrysanthemums on the altar, illuminated with burning candles in brass candelabra, provided the setting Saturday evening for the wedding at Central Christian Church of Miss Diane Henderson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Henderson, 1833 Bremen avenue, and Steven Fraley, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fraley, 4022 Gaultlight Walk.

Rev. James R. Craddock officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony, and a reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church, 2020 Johnson road.

Miss Beverly Henderson, a cousin of the bride, presided at the organ.

Mr. Henderson gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of heavy white satin designed with an Empire bodice, long net sleeves appliqued with lace, and a long train. A bow headpiece trimmed with pearls held in place the bride's illusion veil, and she carried a round bouquet of miniature white carnations, stephanotis, stock, pompons and roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Christy Heine, a schoolmate of the bride, and Mrs. John North, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Gary Mann, bridesmaids, were dressed in blue velvet, light and medium shades, styled with Empire bodices and long sleeves. Their flowers were nosegays of light blue mums tied with darker blue ribbons.

A little flower girl, Linda Lacy, dressed like the older girls, carried a small nosegay of the same flowers. James Lacy served as candlelighter. Both young attendants are cousins of the bride.

Charles Henderson the bride's brother, was best man, and George Wolfe, John Pinegar, Michael Henderson, another brother of the bride, and David Fraley, the bridegroom's brother, served as groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Henderson wore a two-piece dress of gray and silver and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother chose an aqua chiffon dress and a corsage of white roses.

The newlyweds will make their home in the Pontoon Plaza Apartments.

The bridegroom, who spent several years in the armed forces, two of which were in Korea, is now attending SIU-SW. The former Miss Henderson, a fourth grade teacher at Lake school, graduated from SIU-SW.

GUESTS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott, 2708 Denver street, shut-ins, and Mrs. Wanda Parris and son Larry, who reside at the same address, entertained the following callers of Christmas: Mrs. Mamie Crippen, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Corey and son, Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Milun and daughters, Donna and Patricia, Henry Scott and sons, Jimmy, Bob, Henry and John, and Rev. Calvin Black, all of this area.

MARRIED RECENTLY. Mr. and Mrs. John Relleke, whose wedding took place at St. John United Church of Christ. The bride is the former Carole Robertson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson, 3913 Wabash avenue. Mr. Relleke's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Relleke, Rural Route One.

VISITS FAMILY HERE

Miss Martha Lohmann, a former Granite Cityan now residing in Corona, Calif., has returned to her home after spending the Christmas holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Walter Ethridge, 2451 Benton street, and nephew, August Lohmann Jr. and family of Belleville. She was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Ruby Incerto, also of Corona.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. Thompson, 4170 Breckenridge lane, with their son, David, have returned from Cape Girardeau, Mo., where they spent the Christmas holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Johnson. Another son, Ralph, who accompanied them, remained for a longer visit.

VISITING PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bleakley of New York City are spending the holidays here with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lewis, 1300 Twenty-seventh street. Mrs. Bleakley will be remembered as Mary Lee Lewis. The visitors will return to New York on New Year's day.

FEBRUARY BRIDE-TO-BE. Miss Marilyn Louise Krauskopf, whose mother, Mrs. Sara Branding of Florissant, Mo., is announcing her betrothal to John Tarasovich, 921 Lee avenue, Madison, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tarasovich sr. A Valentine's Day wedding is planned.

Warriors Hosting Mat Meet Today, Tomorrow

At noon today, Granite City's ninth annual holiday wrestling tournament began. Other sessions will start at 7 p.m. today and 11 a.m. Tuesday, with finals starting at 3 p.m. Tuesday, all at the GCHS gym.

Fifteen high schools are competing in the invitational meet. Lenny Wilson (10-2 record), weighing 115 pounds, and Al Bridgman (11-1), 123 pounds, are the Warriors least susceptible to being scouted by the tournament opponents.

Their wrestling versatility keeps off-balance, asking "What comes next?" Most wrestlers fall into patterns of moves which, once seen by foes, can lead to planning of preventive actions.

Long List of Holds
Wilson is mobile and aggressive. He doesn't try to outmuscle his adversary but is constantly making fluid changes from one hold to another. During one bout, he may employ more holds than another wrestler might use in a dozen matches.

Bridgman is tough on his feet and is perhaps the best take-down artist on the Granite City team.

He makes effective use of his legs, often with the Turks' ride

St. Mary - St. Mark Quintet Wins Twice In Marquette Meet

St. Mary's and St. Mark's players won their first two outings in the 16-team Marquette basketball tourney at Alton. The local team on Saturday defeated St. Ambrose of Alton 46-30 and on Sunday outscored St. Bernard of Wood River, 37-22.

Mike Watson led St. Mary's and St. Mark's, sinking 10 points the first night and 14 on Sunday.

In semifinal action tonight, St. Mary's and St. Mark's will meet St. Francis of St. Louis at 7 o'clock. On Tuesday, the championship game will be held at 8:30 p.m., preceded by a game for third place at 7:30 p.m.

If St. Mary's and St. Mark's wins tonight, the squad will play for the championship at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Ask Your Game Warden

By DONALD HASTINGS, CONSERVATION OFFICER

O, I hear that we have deer killed by the highway in the county by autos. What happens to them?

A. Yes, as many as 20 per year or more in Madison county. The state police call the county game warden immediately and he takes charge of the carcasses. Usually they are so badly damaged that there is no usable meat and the highway maintenance crews bury them.

If any are eatable, they are processed locally and the proceeds go into the state game and fish fund.

At one time they were given to charitable institutions, but they can no longer use anything but inspected meats. As a reminder, it is unlawful to transport for any purpose a highway-killed deer without permission received from the conservation officer.

Never move the deer until he is called. A motorist that his deer is not penalized in any way but should call a policeman to report for his insurance. Neither is there any compensation available in his behalf, but he must bear the damage to his auto himself or collect on his own insurance.

Q. What is the conservation department's connection with the gun registration law?

A. Until recently we were in no way connected with it. However, in recent months the governor signed a bill into law that assigns $3 out of each $5 gun registration fee to the state conservation fund, so that the sportsmen will now get some benefit from the law.

However at this writing no change in the law has been made in the jurisdiction to the department so that conservation officers cannot enforce the law itself.

It is still a civil law and can be enforced only by civil peace officers such as city police, sheriff deputies and state police. This may change in the future.

Q. Many hunters still seem confused about the wearing of red clothing while hunting quail and rabbits during the shotgun deer season. Will you repeat it?

A. Yes, rabbit and quail hunting could still be done during the recent shotgun deer season of Dec. 12-13 and 14. However every hunter in Madison and Bond counties as well as all surrounding counties must wear a red or orange hat and coat during these three days regardless of what they are hunting.

Many hunters were arrested throughout the state in November for failing to do this and the minimum fine of $25 will certainly pay for a lot of hats and coats. A very usable orange plastic vest can be purchased for less than a dollar and does a real good job, and the orange plastic hats are a good idea to wear all hunting season anyway.

It makes no difference where you are hunting or if there is a deer hunter within 20 miles, if you went out with a gun those three days you should have had the red clothing.

Q. What's the new deal I hear about on hunting and fishing arrests with regard to bond?

A. As of Dec. 1 a conservation officer is obliged by law to re-

Tarris-Parker Team Wins Elks Bowling

Bill Tarris and Ruby Parker placed first in Elks Lodge 1063 monthly "blind doubles" bowling Sunday at Bowland, Chairman Paul Lunsford announced.

Jim Kenney and Kay Taylor were second, Jim Costello and Euple Tarris third, Joe Buscemi and Dorothy Costello fourth, Bill Russell and Georgia Arto fifth and Carl Paschoff and Ely Mainor, sixth. Twenty-five couples participated.

All met afterward at the Elks club for dinner. Joe Buscemi and Clover Howard were honored on their birthdays with cake and a song. Prizes went to Clover Howard, Georgia Arto and Mary Paschoff.

Next bowling will take place at 1 p.m. Jan. 18 at Bowland with all Elks and Elkettes invited.

The Elks club will be the scene of a New Year's Eve dance at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Hunters Bag 8369 Deer This Year

Hunter bagged at least 154 more deer this year than they did in 1968, according to a count made by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Jack Calhoun, leader of the department's deer project, said a preliminary survey revealed that 8369 whitetails were harvested. A complete and accurate total will not be available until the records from all the 60 deer checking stations have been tallied. In 1968, Illinois mired killed 8,215 deer.

Fewer hunting permits were issued in 1969. Calhoun said that last year, 48,976 sportsmen obtained deer permits. This year, 47,820 hunters received them.

No fatal hunting accidents occurred during the season.

Madison Downs Bunker Hill Five 74-51 Today

Madison in the first game of the Edwardsville basketball tournament this morning defeated Bunker Hill 74-51, led by Tom Noel's 19 points.

Bunker Hill, without a six-footer on the squad, could gather only 22 rebounds while taller Madison took 52 off the boards.

Never during the contest did the Trojans trail on the scoreboard. At points in the third quarter, MHS led by 17 points.

Quarter scores were 17-9, 33-38 and 54-37.

Scores for the victorious Trojans included Oscar Hagler 13, Chuck Dandridge 11, John Ervin 9, Joe Dozier eight, John Cannon six, Douglas Griggs four and Charles Pegorelia, three.

MHS tallied 32 field goals and ten free throws and committed 27 fouls during the contest.

Offset Enemy Rally

MHS gained a nine-point bulge early in the second period only to see its foes rally to cut the margin to 25-21. A subsequent scoring spurt provided a more comfortable lead for the Trojans.

Madison's next game is set for 4 p.m. Tuesday against the winner of today's Cahokia-Litchfield clash.

Depending on the outcome of its game tomorrow, MHS either will be eliminated or will meet East St. Louis-Quincy, CBC, Bloomington-Jerseyville survivor in a championship semifinal contest at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

If it wins in the semifinals, Madison will advance to the title game at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Edwardsville. No third-place game is scheduled.

Warriors Defeat Deerfield 68-61, Await Powerful Waukegan Tuesday

The Warriors won their 9 a.m. game over Deerfield 68-61 today to open the Pontiac basketball tournament. It may be "out of the frying pan and into the fire," however, since the probable next foe is flashy Waukegan, rated as one of the two best teams in Illinois.

Granite City's regular starters, all seniors, started today. Halfway through the first quarter, Coach Don Deterding made his only substitution, putting in junior Mike DeRuntz in an attempt to boost the rebounding potential of the Warriors.

DeRuntz played continuously for the remainder of the contest and led the team in rebounds with eight.

Deterding said both teams played poorly, having problems with basic dribbling and passing.

Even difficulty with ball handling did not deter the Warriors' defensive press from stealing the ball 18 times. On offense, GCHS turned over the ball on 11 occasions.

Positioning Problem
Deterding noted that the Warriors were always "a half-second out of position." The positioning problem was evident in Jeff Boyler's rebounding total — 3 today and 17 last week against Edwardsville.

Warrior scorers: Dave Melzer 24, Steve Harris 13, Boyles 11, DeRuntz 10, Tim Schwendeman six and Tim Moore four.

Quarter GCHS leads were 16-15, 38-31 and 56-46.

Waukegan, the Warriors' likely next foe at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, was leading at halftime 46-18 against Champaign Centennial.

Impressed by Next Foe
Deterding, after viewing the initial half, agreed with Waukegan's high ranking. "They're quick, they're aggressive on defense and their front line consists of players 6'10, 6'5 and 6'4 in height," the Warrior coach told the Press-Record at press time.

Having overcome its first hurdle at Pontiac, GCHS next will tackle the Waukegan-Champaign Centennial rivalry at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

GCHS next would play the DeLaSalle-Normal University High-Lockport Central-Streator survivor in the championship semifinals at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

If it reaches the 1 p.m. Wednesday game, Granite City will be assured of being around for the maximum of four games.

A semifinal loss would lead to the third-place contest at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, while a semifinal triumph would set the stage for the tournament championship tilt at Pontiac at 10 p.m. Wednesday—just in time to celebrate the new year with a first-place trophy.

EVERYONE FOULS HARRIS? Steve Harris (right) has received more foul shooting opportunities than any other Warrior. He tossed in 27 free throws while missing seven prior to today's tournament play.

Venice Wins Two; In Semifinal Tilt Tonight

Venice's cagers have advanced to the semifinals of the New Athens-Chester victory vs. Freeburg high school Christmas basketball tournament and face Highland at 8:30 tonight. The Red Devils gained the semifinal level by defeating Gibault of Waterloo 84-65 Friday and downing Freeburg, 61-42 Saturday.

Pairings today are: consolation semifinals—New Athens vs. Chester at 3 p.m. and Gibault vs. Marissa at 4:30 p.m. The other championship semifinal will pit Columbia against Odin at 7 o'clock tonight.

On Tuesday, all the finals will be played: consolation—New Athens-Chester victory vs. Gibault-Marissa victor, 5 p.m.; third place—Columbia-Odin loser vs. Venice-Highland loser, 6:30 p.m.; championship—Columbia-Odin victor vs. Venice-Highland victor, 8:30 p.m.

54 by Gray in Two Games
The Devils' Fessor Gray was the best scorer in the tourney Friday. He targeted 40 points despite feeling ill. Illness has bothered Gray for a week and it forced him to sit out portions of the first, second and final quarters. Helping overcome the Waterloo squad were Cedric Gardner

Khoury Association Will Honor 15 at Banquet on Feb. 1

The Khoury Baseball Association will honor 15 men from various parts of the U. S. by presenting them with the Khoury Meritorious Service Award at the 34th annual dinner-dance at 6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 1, at the Khorassan Room of the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

The award was created to honor individuals who have given time, energy, talent and in some cases financial backing over many years to Khoury programs. Celebrities from the sports world will be present at the affair.

Johnny Polzin's orchestra will provide the music this year, and Father Shaheen's Lebanese Dancers will be performing a dance in their native costumes. Tickets for the $15 dinner-dance, which is open to the public, can be obtained by sending a check or money order to Khoury League Stadium Fund, 3220 Park avenue, St. Louis, Mo. 63104, or by calling MO 4-441 for reservations.

Chahokia Wins, 49-48

Madison's opponent tomorrow at Edwardsville is Chahokia, which edged Litchfield this morning 49-48. Chahokia won in the final minute with back-to-back field goals by Dave Mulhern and Bob Moberly. Moberly paced Chahokia, scoring 20 points.

Battery Charge Filed

Dale Winters, 20, of 1423 22nd street, was arrested at his home Saturday at 3 p.m. Friday on a warrant charging battery. The complaint was filed by Donald Baker, 2041 E. 1st, who was taken into custody.

Store Window Broken

A window was broken at the Sheridan drug store, 23rd and State streets, it was reported at 9:45 a.m. Sunday. A large piece of concrete was found inside the building. Nothing was missing.

17, Douglas Johnson 12, Jim O'leary 10 and Andrei Johnson, five.

Venice led 19-13, 40-30 and 62-42 at the quarters against Gibault.

Gray was held to 14 points in the Devils' win over the host team, Freeburg, the following day. The spotlight will be on Dan Haberl in the semifinal meeting of Columbia and Odin: Haberl has led Columbia's scoring in both of its wins with a 19 points per game average. The pre-tourney favorite, Odin, has gained convincing wins over Fairview 68-43 and Carlyle 69-44.

River Festival Pledges Total $15,000 to Date

A fund being raised by a non-profit organization in an effort to convince the Southern Illinois University board of trustees to co-sponsor another Mississippi River Festival with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra has reached $15,000, according to Dr. Albert W. Trian, a Granite City dentist who is heading the fund drive.

The Mississippi River Festival Inc. was formed last week to solicit funds for the festival which would be held at SIU's Southwestern campus. A quota for a fund drive planned from Jan. 4 to 14 has not been set, but a substantial amount is needed to ensure the festival becoming an annual event, Dr. Trian said.

The first festival was held last summer and was described as an outstanding artistic and cultural success, but a financial failure, incurring a $150,000 deficit which had to be met by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and SIU.

Fire Call for Auto

Firemen were dispatched at 9:40 p.m. Saturday to the 2200 block of Lee street, where the auto of Blythe McMurray, 2248a Lee, was smoking. The damage from an overheated radiator was estimated at $15.

MORE ABOUT Burglars

en, books were scattered about and a public address system was torn up.

Residential Burglary
A record player with twin speakers, valued at $50, was taken by a burglar Saturday at the trailer home of Francis Altschak, 2055 Fourteenth street. The intruder, who entered through a bedroom window, also took an ivory radio, a green quilt and a pink quilt.

A $19 grey clock radio was stolen from the home of Robert Austin, 2940 Harding blvd., he reported at 7:45 p.m. Friday.

The home of William Burckey, 3598 Spaulding avenue, was burglarized after 5 p.m. Thursday while the family was out of the state for the holidays. It was reported by a neighbor at 2:20 p.m. Friday. Items under a Christmas tree and bedroom dressers and closets were ransacked. It was undetermined if anything was missing.

A 12-gauge pump shotgun and an opal and a pearl necklace were stolen in a burglary at the home of Newman Hearn, 4517 Vine blvd., he reported to the Madison county sheriff's office at 8:35 p.m. Sunday. Entry was gained through the rear door.

Church Burglary

A filing cabinet was forced and a safe was pried open in a burglary of Mt. Zion General Baptist Church, it was reported at 7:35 p.m. Sunday. An undetermined amount of money, including several checks, was taken from a bank bag. Entry was gained in the afternoon through a basement door.

A burglar broke into the parish hall of Concordia Lutheran Church, 23rd street and Grand avenue, by prying a basement window. It was reported at 8:25 a.m. Sunday. Cabinets were ransacked in two offices. Fry marks were found on the door to the main church but there was no entry. A telephone was pried off the rear wall of the parish hall and was left hanging. Nothing was missing.

A man and a woman shoplifted a carton of cigarettes at the National food store, 3100 Madison avenue, and fled in a white 1963 station wagon driven by another man. It was reported at 2:50 p.m. Sunday. A store clerk, who chased them, said they appeared to be 19 or 20 years old.

Stolen Car Wrecked
A car stolen in Brooklyn was recovered by Venice police about 1 a.m. today after the thief crashed the car into a utility pole at Klein and Bissell street and fled the scene on foot. Police said the 1963 model red over white auto was owned by Herman Smith, 807 Webster street, West Madison. It was being driven north on Klein when it ran into the utility pole at Bissell street, extensively damaging the front end.

A car stolen in Granite City from Philip Lutes, Fairmont street, was recovered by Venice police about 6:30 p.m. yesterday after Lutes called officers and informed them he had received a tip that his car could be found at Selb and Logan streets. Venice police found the 1959 model car at that location.

Rented Truck Stolen

A yellow 1½-ton van owned by Hertz Truck Rental, St. Louis, was stolen during the night from the 1300 block of Granite avenue, it was reported at 3:30 a.m. Thursday.

The top of an auto which was bolted down was taken from the damaged 1968 auto of Alfred Delgado, 3265 Edgewood drive, while the car was parked in his back yard, he reported at 3:30 a.m. Saturday. The top was valued at $200.

Four young boys and a girl were seen pulling a sled loaded with four cases of cookies at 4:20 p.m. Saturday, shortly after the cookies were taken from a truck at the Schulze & Birch Co., 24th and Center streets. When they were pursued through a field in the 2300 block of Adams street, they fled, dropping two of the cases.

Soldier Arrested

Michael D. Fletcher, 21, an AWOL soldier, was arrested at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday and was charged with theft of a vehicle after he was ticketed at 26th street and Washington avenue on charges of using fictitious plates and having no valid registration.

He was charged in connection with a stolen 1965 auto taken from the Like New Motors lot on Namekoi road, which was later found abandoned, and with theft of a 1959 auto of Philip Lutes, Fairmont City, taken from a lot at 21st and Iowa streets.

A total of $4589.16, which was

Auto Window Broken

Emmer Zaugin, 2610 Denver street, reported at 8:10 p.m. Friday that someone—believed to be in a white 1962 auto—used a sledgehammer to break the rear window of his 1967 auto while it was parked at his home.

26 Traffic Accidents Occur on Icy GC Streets

Twenty-six traffic accidents occurred on icy Granite City streets from Wednesday through early Friday. Four persons suffered minor injuries.

Three persons were injured when an auto driven by Gary M. Bearley, 3405 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was observing a stop sign, was struck by a car driven by John E. Foster, St. Louis, at 10:29 p.m. Wednesday at Wabash avenue and Pontion road.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Michael Bearley sr., 23, his wife, Mrs. Sandra Bearley, 23, and his son, Michael Jr., six months, of the Kirkpatrick Homes address. Bearley was examined and released. Mrs. Bearley was released following x-rays to the skull and spine. The son, who struck his head on the dashboard, was treated for small contusions and was released.

Vehicle Mishap

Pulling away from the curb in the 2200 block of Benton street at 2 p.m. Wednesday, an auto driven by Joseph A. Graham, 2320 Benton, was struck by a Bi-State bus driven by Henry R. Bell, St. Louis, at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The Graham auto was forced into the right side of the parked auto of Laura Boyd, 2231 Benton, the bus hit the left side of the parked auto of Rebecca Benson, 2230 Benton, and the Graham car then struck the rear of the parked auto of Thomas Griffin, St. Louis.

Graham was charged with illegal transportation of liquor and with making an improper start from a parked position.

The auto of Carolyn Thomas, 1909 Grand avenue, parked in the driveway at the Salvation Army headquarters, was struck by Anna Mary Thomas, 2540 Delmar avenue, who was backing up at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Turning left into a driveway at Pontion and Johnson roads, an auto driven by Robert King, 723 Harvey place, was struck in the right side by a car driven by Darrell W. DeFoe, Belleville, at 2:25 p.m. Wednesday.

An auto driven by Hollis W. Donaldson, 603 Maple street, struck the right side of a car driven by Jessica L. Parsons, 603 Garschke Homes, Madison, at 4:10 p.m. Wednesday at Namee-oki road and Jill avenue.

While leaving the parking lot at National Food store, Madison avenue and Nameoki road, an auto driven by Kenneth White of 3 Kaseberg park, was struck by a car driven by James A. Minard, 4800 Redwood lane, at 4:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Slowing to turn right at Maryville road and Waterman avenue, the rear of the auto of Dorothy E. Miller, 2228 Waterman, was struck by a car driven by Roger V. Chilton, Florissant, Mo., who was unable to stop in time at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Auto Skids Into Fence

An auto driven by Virgil N. Hayes, 1911 Sken street, Madison, skidded on ice and knocked down 30 feet of fence at the home of Charles Murphy, 1332 Edwardsville road, and then struck the front of a home owned by Edward Long at 1330 Edwardsville at 11 p.m. Wednesday.

A hit-and-run driver struck the left side of the auto of Donald A. Williams, 2201 Lee avenue, parked in front of his home at 9:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Pulling over toward a curb to allow passage of an oncoming car, John W. Belleke, Rural Route One, was unable to stop on slick pavement and struck the parked car of Ole Cottrell, 2905 Pershing blvd., about 5 p.m. Thursday in the 3300 block of Fehling road.

A hit-and-run driver struck the parked car of Edward Denn, 2232 Lee avenue, at 9:45 p.m. Thursday on the lot at the Tri-Mor Bowl.

Out of control on icy pavement, the auto of Gary Hyatt, 1015 Third street, Venice, struck a car driven by William Moore, 2006 Richmond avenue, at 10:30 p.m. Thursday at 17th street and Madison avenue.

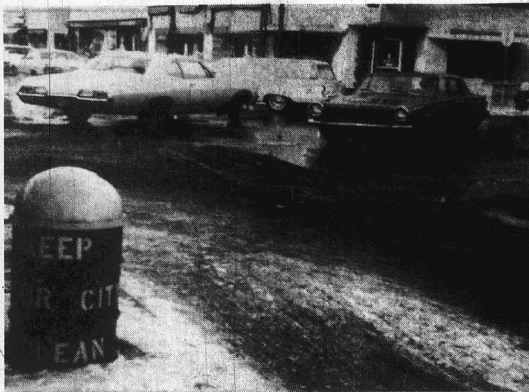

Skidding on ice, the auto of Dennis H. Peters, 3228 Willow avenue, struck a car owned by Merrie Pirtle, 2682 East 27th street, parked at his home at 11 p.m. Thursday.

Auto Hits Pole

Clifford Williams, 20, of 1101 Logan street, Venice, suffered minor injuries when a car driven by Jessica L. Parsons, 603 Garschke Homes, Madison, at 4:10 p.m. Wednesday at Namee-

oki road and Jill avenue.

GRANITE CITY'S ACCIDENT RATE soared last week in the rush of holiday season coupled with icy and slushy streets. The city normally averages six or seven traffic crashes a day. Last week the rate was 17-a-day. This photo was taken at 19th and State streets.

Powell, Booneville, Ill., who tried to stop, jackknifed and struck the rear of the auto of John C. Brown at 7:10 a.m. Friday at 1700 Madison avenue.

An auto driven by Thelma Leutenegger, 2104 St. Clair avenue, slid into a car driven by Charles C. Blaylock, 2558 Buenger avenue, at 8:15 a.m. Friday at Pontion and Maryville roads.

Willis Eitherton, 2314 Missouri avenue, reported that he heard a crash between 2 and 3 a.m. Wednesday and later discovered that a car had struck a mulberry in his yard.

Applies Brakes, Skids

Lynn Roberts, 2204 East 20th street, was forced to apply the brakes to his taxi which slid into the rear of the parked auto of John Roberts, 1152 Rhodes street, Wednesday at West 20th street and Illinois avenue.

An auto driven by Austin Hoger, 3121 Jill avenue, which backed out of a driveway at 20th street and Washington avenue, was struck in the rear Wednesday by a car driven by Robert Thebeau, 1737 Edison avenue.

Slowing to turn into her driveway Wednesday, an auto driven by Gladys M. Branscomb, 2520 East 27th street, struck the parked car of William C. Krauskopf, 2809 Saratoga street.

While it was stopped in traffic, an auto driven by Bonnie L. Miller, St. Louis, was hit from behind by a car driven by Paul J. Atwood, St. Louis, Wednesday at Madison avenue and Nameoki road.

An auto driven by Michael A. Jones, 1900 Garfield avenue, struck the rear of an auto driven by John Fanz, Collinsville, Wednesday at the driveway of the American Village shopping center.

Autos driven by Rose M. Tankley, 3428 Killamery drive, and Stephen Harris, 2133 Bern avenue, made frontal slides into each other on ice Wednesday at St. Clair and Myrtle avenues.

Harris was charged with going too fast for conditions.

Slowing for traffic, an auto driven by Frank D. Gac, 2641 Washington avenue, was struck in the rear by a car driven by James A. Bida, 2017 St. Clair avenue, Wednesday at 3305 Johnson road.

Traveling on inside lanes in the 2400 block of Madison avenue, autos driven by David J. Ames, 4000 Gaslight Walk, and William B. Brewer, 2613 Adams street, slid on ice and side-swiped at 12:40 p.m. Wednesday.

A hit-and-run driver struck the left side of the auto of Phyllis Martin, 2617 Adams street, parked on the main post office lot between 7:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

ACCUMULATED SNOW AND ICE at the curbline in downtown Granite City posed problems for pre-holiday and post-holiday shoppers with autos, who experienced difficulties not only in controlling cars while traveling over icy streets, but also in getting away from the curb after parking. This downtown photo is at 19th street and Edison avenue, looking west.

17 Crashes A Day in GC

Snow Problems Bring Out Conflicting Views

Granite City's ice and snow problems of last week pinpointed the need for added snow removal crews for the street department, complaining motorists and merchants told the Press-Record.

In a four-day period, traffic crashes averaged 17-a-day, compared to the normal rate of six or seven a day, and the ice and snow on the streets caused untold property damage as well as inconveniences for holiday crowds.

Street Supt. William Warfield, who has made repeated appeals to the city council to increase the size of the 25-man street department, said he operated as many cinder-salt spreading crews as he could muster — even calling back men on vacation.

While council members have expressed their opinion that the street superintendent has authority in an emergency to hire extra men on a temporary basis, Supt. Warfield points to the ordinance setting up the street department and limiting the number of street workers to 25.

"They said they would change the ordinance for me to put on any other men," Warfield stated.

"I have 25 men, but when that snow started to fall during last Monday night's council meeting, I had one man home ill, another who had hurt himself in a fall at home and unable to work, three men on vacation and six men assigned to the pumps at sewer breaks."

The superintendent explained it took three men to operate each of the city's six cinder-salt spreaders. "I called back men from vacation and was able to put three spreaders in operation."

Drive Shaft Damaged

The drive shaft of a car driven by Julius Winters, Centerville, Ill., was damaged about 7:15 p.m. Thursday when it went out of control at Third street and State street and ran onto the railroad tracks, Madison police reported. Winters told officers he was driving south on State and was passing another car when he lost control of his auto.

Stolen Car in Crash

A short time earlier from Second and Jackson streets, West Madison, the 1963 two-door auto of Oscar Heard, St. Louis, hit the left front of the car of Eddie Harper, 1203 Douglas street, Venice, in a collision at 12:25 a.m. Sunday at Weaver and Douglas streets, Venice. The unknown car thief then abandoned the Heav auto in the 1000 block of College street and escaped on foot.

"The crews worked all night and most of Tuesday, and then I sent them home, only to call them out again at 2 a.m. Wednesday."

The crews spent Wednesday salting and cinder-salt spreading in the downtown area, and two crews were out on Friday, when several men were assigned to sanitary sewer lift stations that were causing problems.

Warfield stressed that he began early in November to tell the council to take steps to give him more men to be available in the event of a heavy snow. "They did give me authority to rent a grader in the event of an emergency, but even though they might assume I have authority to hire extra men in an emergency situation, I can't do a thing until they change the ordinance limiting the size of the department."

Warfield has endeavored for several years to increase the size of the department, but the council, faced with mounting payrolls while spending over $500,000 from city general funds for sewer break repairs and maintenance, has steadfastly refused to increase the sizes of any departments.

Added men for the street department and the police and fire departments have been proposed for the past several years by the department heads, but were turned down at budget time in July.

Several months ago, Mayor Partney suggested the council renege the assignment of duties for the street department and turn over all sewer maintenance including repairs to lift stations and sewer break pump maintenance, to the crew at the sewage treatment plant — thus establishing a municipal sewer department.

There has been no action to date on the recommendation, although at the time the suggestion was made, several council members noted it would provide added man-days for the street department to carry out regular street maintenance work.

The city council at the present time has under consideration the purchase of another road grader that in winter time also operates as a snow plow.

A lone bid from the O. B. Avery Co., St. Louis, was received last week in the amount of $24,587. Warfield contends that the council's authority to rent a grader for snow removal is not the answer to his problem, since it takes a man to operate the grader, and also he must assign a man to handle the lift machine to load snow onto dump trucks and also have men to operate the trucks.

The last financial report for city funds showed the street department with a balance of $93,823 on Oct. 31 with expenditures during the first six months of the fiscal year, amounting to $142,390.

Average monthly expenditures during the first six months amounted to $23,728, while the $93,823 balance would cover average monthly expenditures of $15,637.

The city's reserve funds are being depleted with transfers of sales tax revenue to the sewer maintenance. However, slim relief is appearing with receipt of the first allocation of federal funds for sewer and flood damage. The city has received $90,000 of an anticipated $700,000.

Trips on Ice, Hurt

Miss Arlene Nash, 15, of 603 Fillmore street, Venice, fell and was injured at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Tri-City Grocery Co. parking lot, 420 Broadway, Venice, tripping over a chunk of ice which had frozen to the surface after falling from beneath an auto fender. She was taken by ambulance and admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Skid Causes Crash

As the auto of Lawrence Gary, 200 Weaver street, Venice, was turning from Mercedes street onto Logan street, Venice, at 9:15 p.m. Saturday, it skidded on ice against the left rear of the parked car of Timothy Evans, 182 Viola Jones Homes.

Carlsbad, Calif.; and two grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Lyle Jones, 56, Army Depot Supervisor, Dies

Lyle E. Jones, 56, of 4716 Nameoki road, was pronounced dead upon arrival Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance from his home shortly at 1:55 p.m. He had been under a physician's care and death was attributed to an apparent heart attack.

A supervisor at the Granite City Army Depot, Mr. Jones had resided locally for the past 26 years. He was a native of Liberal, Mo., and a member of Calvary Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Norma Jones; one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Lanette) Harter; Hazelwood, Mo.; a son, Rudy Jones, U. S. Marine Corps, Camp Pendleton, Calif.; his mother, Mrs. Viola Jones of Granite City; two sisters, Louise Uhler of Roxana and Mrs. Larne Dellmanns of Among companies scheduled to interview prospects are U.S. Steel, Olin Corp., Union Electric, Pillsbury, Venture Stores, PPG Industries, Illinois Power and the Prudential and Aetna Insurance companies.

Tax Withholding Rates To be Sent Employers

The Internal Revenue Service announced employers today that preparations are being made to furnish, at the earliest possible date, the rates and tables to be used for withholding income taxes from wages of employees paid on and after Jan. 1.

Computer runs have already been made to determine the rates and tables which would be prescribed if Congress and the President approve the withholding provisions agreed upon by the House and Senate act of 1969.

If these provisions become law, the seven regional Internal Revenue Service centers will, as soon as possible, mail individual copies of the rates and tables to each of the 4.5 million employers who withhold income taxes.

The rates and tables will be issued as a 24-page supplement to the regular Employers Tax Guide, Circular E. The new tax bill, as approved by the conferees, introduces a low income allowance and would reduce the surcharge portion of the withholding tax from 10% to 5% between Jan. 1 and June 30. It also would eliminate the surcharge altogether from withholding starting July 1. Before that date, employers will be mailed a completely revised Circular E, containing updated instructions as well as post July 1 rates and tables.

The Internal Revenue Service recognizes that some employers may not have adequate time to prepare for the Jan. 1 change over in withholding. Therefore, it urges employers to do their best in installing the new rates and tables as soon as possible. Good faith efforts to do so will be accepted as substantial compliance with the law.

'A Wonderful Surprise,' Mother Says of Letter

"Thank you for printing the letter from Gary. It was a wonderful Christmas gift," said there crying while reading it, unable to tell my husband what was wrong with me," Mrs. Melvin F. Penberthy, told the Press-Record.

The mother of Army Specialist Four Gary W. Barron was published last Monday, said the "whole thing was such a surprise. I always read the Yule Mail Call list and I saw Gary's name in it and then the letter alongside."

Two recent letters from the serviceman to his parents and his wife, the former Nancy Allen of Granite City, failed to mention the communication to the newspaper. Sp4 Barron noted the Christmas message was to be a surprise. "He never checked a work to us, so it really was unexpected," Mrs. Penberthy said. "We have been very worried about him, as in mid-November he informed us that a growth on his back had caused brief periods of paralysis. He was hospitalized at a field hospital for a short while and was taking medication."

"Should the treatment have failed to work, there was the possibility he would be sent to a hospital in the States," she said. A letter received by his parents Tuesday reported his condition had improved and that Sp4 Barron was back on duty.

The 21-year-old soldier is based about 35 miles northwest of Saigon with the 4th Cavalry Division.

Income Tax Return Booklet Now Available

A 160-page booklet on how to fill out your federal income tax is now available at most Internal Revenue Service offices throughout the Springfield district, according to Jay G. Philbrick, district director of internal revenue.

The booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," Publication 17, contains many examples to illustrate how the laws apply to actual situations. A special feature of the booklet is the sample, filled-in return, Form 1040, keyed to pages in the booklet where explanations can be found for the entries on the return.

The material, written in layman's language, is especially helpful to taxpayers who have unusual tax situations or new tax problems, Philbrick said. Examples of taxable and non-taxable income and of allowable and non-allowable deductions are included. A detailed index helps taxpayers find the answers to their tax problems. The booklet is for sale at 60 cents a copy at IRS offices, including Alton and East St. Louis.

Wetly Children's Fund Donations Total $3464

A total of $3464 have been donated to the 11 Wetly children, who are being cared for by their grandmother, Mrs. Lottie Lynn, 2013 Fourth Street, Madison.

The youngsters, ranging in age from 14 months to 15 years, became the responsibility of their 59-year-old grandmother after the death of their mother, Mrs. Loretta Wetly, on Oct. 18, following an auto accident. Their father, Glen, died of lung cancer at John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, about 15 months earlier.

Donations to the Wetly Children's Fund at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, received mostly in small amounts, also have included denominations of $20, $50 and $100. The fund was boosted recently with a $1100 check from the Sodemann Heat and Power Co., St. Louis.

The trust fund was established by friends of Mrs. Lynn, with cooperation of bank officials and local attorneys, to enable the public to assist the 11 orphaned youngsters. Contributions may be sent directly to the local bank at 1909 Edison avenue, marked "Wetly Children's Fund," a trust officer said.

Forecast for Illinois?

Growth in the '70's!

The stage has been set for dramatic growth in Illinois in the 1970's.

Our state's friendly, productive people continue to attract new industries. Our cities are being re-vitalized... our countryside leads all states in food production. Our education and recreation resources expand to keep pace with the explosions in knowledge and creative use of leisure.

And wherever there is progress today, there must be energy to help it happen.

In Illinois Power territory there will be electric and gas energy for all in the amazing seventies. That's because we started planning and building for the next decade back in the sixties.

Growth is the forecast—and there'll be plenty of energy to help it happen.

IP energy
helps things happen.

SIU-SW Program Director Assistant Resigns

Philip L. Eckert, assistant program director for the Student Work and Financial Assistance office at SIU-SW campus, has resigned, effective Dec. 31.

Eckert announced his intention to resign "due to various business interests" in a letter to Chancellor John S. Rendieman. The resignation will be forwarded to the Board of Trustees for final action.

Danger Exists with Burning Trash

Permanent loss of sight can result from trash fires according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

People are often careless about tossing such potentially dangerous things as glass bottles or apparently empty spray cans into trash fires. If an aerosol container still holds some combustible substance, it can be exploded by the heat, sending a shower of burning metal fragments into the air.

Holiday Hours Continue At Wilson Park Rink

General skating sessions at Wilson Park ice rink pavilion for the remainder of the holiday season were announced today by Harold Brown, Granite City superintendent of parks and recreation.

General sessions, today through Thursday, Jan. 1, are: 1 to 3:30 p.m., 4 to 6:30 p.m. and 7 to 9:30 p.m.

The regular rink schedule will resume Friday, with general skating periods from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 9:30 p.m., Brown said.

Legislative Forum Set For Alton Meet Sunday

Eleven political leaders including U. S. Sen. Ralph T. Smith of Alton, Cong. Melvin Price of East St. Louis and State Rep. Horace Calvo of Granite City will participate in a legislative forum at a dinner meeting Sunday night at the Stratford Hotel in Alton under sponsorship of the Greater Alton Association of Commerce.

The program is designed to bring the voter and elected official together in an exchange of viewpoints in a question and answer period that will be a feature of the meeting. Other officials scheduled to attend include Cong. George Shipley, State Sen. Merrill Otwell, State Reps. Leland J. Kennedy, Sam M. Vaidalabene, Don Barry, Ben C. Harpstrite and Jerry Corbett, and Alton Mayor Paul Lenz.

Local and Regional topics will get major attention during the discussions, including pollution controls, the impact of changing economic conditions on the industry of Illinois, better crime control, the proposed second airport in Illinois and the need for a new dam on the Mississippi.

CONVENTION LEADER CAPABLE, FIRM, FAIR

To the Editor:

If the spirit of a convention is any indication of success, the present Illinois Constitutional Convention is sure to be successful.

When the delegates adjourned Dec. 16, there was a general feeling of optimism and accomplishment. Just prior to adjournment, they had picked the remaining convention officers, a task which could have caused much bickering and delay.

Aside from the fact that I believe we have a very dedicated and outstanding group of men and women, the greatest single factor contributing to the spirit of optimism is the man in charge of the convention, Samuel Witwer.

Witwer, in the first two weeks of the convention, has shown himself to be an able and firm, yet fair, leader.

He runs the convention in a businesslike fashion, giving every indication that he is striving to see the fruits of what he and others have been seeking, diligently for many years—constitutional revision for the state of Illinois.

Witwer lives in Kenilworth, a word on the other officers—Thomas Lyons of Chicago, Elbert Smith of Decatur and John Alexander of Virden.

Lyons is a former senator who worked on the Constitutional Study Committee. Smith is a former state auditor.

Alexander, who represent the 2nd district, which includes parts of Madison and St. Clair counties, is a political science teacher.

Frankly, some of us had hoped for a vice-president from a more southern area. But in the final moments our candidate withdrew for the sake of convention harmony. The secretary is Odas Nicholson, a Chicago attorney.

The convention adjourned

after thrashing through all but two rules, which will be taken up first thing upon reconvening.

Now the convention awaits with great anticipation the committee assignments, and the heart of the task—committee work on the hearings.

RAY JOHNSON
Local Delegate

FULL DISCLOSURE RULE URGED FOR 'CON CON'

To the Editor:

For the second week of the Constitutional Convention, we convened at 3 p.m. Dec. 16.

Rules were adopted, except for dealing with registration of lobbyists to the Convention, and disclosure of outside interests by the delegates.

I hope the rule requiring full disclosure will be adopted, to set the pattern for hoped-for Constitutional requirements of disclosure for all public officials.

I believe this would restore a great deal of public confidence in our elected officials, the vast majority of whom deserve it.

After the rules, officers were chosen. Both parties, races, sexes and various ages and other groups were striven to assure balanced representation for all. I believe we approached this goal, though not entirely reaching it.

The Convention voted to have three vice-presidents, which assured better representation on the executive committee.

But it also voted to pay all three of them, at a rate of $25 per month. I believe we don't have the power to engage in such a raid on the public purse, even though the attorney General said otherwise.

I look for a successful suit to challenge the payment of more than one vice-president. All in all an encouraging beginning.

WENDELL DURR
Local Delegate

Apprenticeship 'Outreach' Courses

By GEORGE P. SHULTZ
U.S. Secretary of Labor

Through the affirmative action of craft unions and community-action agencies, the Apprenticeship Outreach program has recorded a nine-month high of 271 minority youths accepted as apprentices in the skilled trades.

This brings to 5042 the number of minority youths inducted as apprentices in programs registered with the Department of Labor since the Outreach program began 29 months ago.

The 271 minority youths are learning on-the-job and building a solid construction trades such as carpenter, bricklayer, structural ironworker, operating engineer, cement mason, plumber, electrician, painter, sheet-metal worker, plasterer, roofer, tile setter, boiler-maker and fitter.

Apprenticeship Outreach uses the "mentor and mentee" system to assist minority youths (Negro, Puerto Rican, Mexican American and Indian) in preparing for specific apprenticeship examinations in the construction trades.

The courses run from four to 10 weeks, determined by the type of test to be given and each trainee's individual needs. Outreach has signed 10 different sponsoring groups to conduct programs in 53 major industrial areas. The program represents a total Labor Department investment of more than $4 million.

Sponsoring groups include the Urban League, the AFL-CIO, 10 cities; local buildings and construction trades councils; the AFL-CIO, 10 cities; and seven other sponsors with programs in place for 1970.

Of the total 5042 minority apprentices, the Urban League has placed 1798, the Workers' Defense League 1500, the building and construction trades councils 1204 and the others, 473.

The Urban League has already exceeded its goal of 900 placements by 900, and the building and construction trades councils have surpassed their goal of 800 by more than 400.

The overall goal of 3470 apprenticeship placements during the life of the training contracts now in force has already been exceeded by 1572.

Among the 18 building and construction trades in which the 5042 minority youths are inducted, five are 100 percent apprentices, or 57.95 of the total. They are: carpenter, 1026 apprentices; electrician, 536; plumber, 451; painter, 451; and sheetmetal worker, 400.

The Victory Mothers club entertained soldiers from the Depot at a holiday dinner party at St. Peter's Evangelical & Reformed Church. Twenty-five women were invited and each was given a gift. The gathering of 85 enjoyed dancing by a class of small girls, songs by the Rogers sisters and a talk by Capt. Bellam of the Depot. The club consists of mothers of servicemen.

Harry Deatherage, sole surviving active charter member of Teamsters & Chauffeurs Local 61, was elected president, succeeding Clinton C. Byrnes. James F. Byrnes was elected vice-president, Clyde Baker financial secretary, Earl Baker recording secretary and R. D. Webb, business agent.

Five handbooks reported to be operating here—three in Granite City, one in Madison and one in Venice—will be forced to suspend operations after Jan. 3 as a result of the request by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes to close all rail track facilities unless there is a reversal in the war trend. However, some may continue to keep their doors open for card and dice games. Byrnes said closing the railroads would release manpower for war work and relieve overloaded transportation facilities.

City officials and representatives of the Standard Steel Spring Co. tentatively agreed upon a lump sum payment of $36,440 plus an annual charge of $400 by the war plant for use of sewers and the pumping station.

The Fleishman basketball team will play Alton Onized at Madison high school in a benefit game. Proceeds will be used to redecorate the Madison high school board, which was erected by the Lions club.

A holiday party was held by Job's Daughters Bethel 43 at the Masonic Temple. The girls enjoyed a gift exchange, games and carol singing. Prizes were won by Misses Muriel Broadway and Betty Sue Friesen.

State Should Clarify the Roles, Limits of The Various Mental Health Governing Levels

The dispute which jeopardizes continued provision of mental health counseling in the Quad-Cities area has been the subject of a recent editorial in the local clinic's executive director. Because an issue of statewide impact is involved, there should be study and remedial steps by the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

The director here is opposed by the "708" Board, a body created to help hold the purse strings when Bill 708 authorized county mental health centers. The County Board of Supervisors and its Mental Health and Finance Committees also have a voice. The director was hired by the Madison County Mental Health Society Quad-Cities Center board which has defended the director and has written a mass resignation letter.

The larger question is the admitted desire of 708 Board members for more power—for efficiency, they say, for political patronage fees say.

Certainly, there is a risk that the upheaval could result in future staff members and clerks being hired not on ability, but on how many relatives they have of voting age. The dominant Democratic precinct organization always is looking for additional patronage jobs, and the fact that a few Republicans sometimes help their "rivals" achieve this should not be surprising to Illinoisans with a grasp of how politics is sometimes played.

Even assuming for discussion purposes that partisanship is not a factor, it seems inappropriate for the 708 Board to wield as big a stick as it proposes.

Laymen often can reach sounder judgments than one-specialty experts, but the extent of personal participation, by some 708 members has been extensive, and the chairman is actively considering becoming a full-time mental health administrator on the county payroll while retaining his membership on the Board of Supervisors. The 708 Board has indicated a desire to not only act on budget requests but to pick the boards and staffs of community clinics.

The Illinois Mental Health Department zone and subdistrict directors say that state funds, which make up about half of clinic revenue, can be made available to the local center but not to the 708 Board. Their view is that the center Board should be the one involved in details of the operation, and that the 708 Board has plenty to do in the general coordination of clinics and other mental health programs.

It is an incontestable principle of American democracy that the people of a state have the right to change their government as they may wish at any time they may wish. It is a subject only to requirements of the United States Constitution.

The right is expressed in the constitutions of most states—Alabama, Connecticut, Iowa, Missouri, Virginia and Tennessee, for example. Whether it is expressed or not, it is a right which the people reserve to themselves absolutely and by which they retain ultimate control of all government in the state.

In the exercise of this right, the people of Illinois authorized a convention to "revise, alter or amend" the constitution of the state. They selected delegates, and the convention has begun its review of a document which now is nearly a century old.

The present constitution is the third in the history of the state. The first was adopted in 1818 when Illinois was admitted to the Union. It lasted for 30 years. The second came in 1848, a revision of the first with greater length and detail. It lasted for 22 years.

Serious governmental problems followed upon the Civil War, compelling the people to demand yet another constitutional revision. It produced the Constitution of 1870, which is in effect today.

In each instance, the work of preparing a new constitution was done in convention.

A fourth convention met in 1920, but its proposals were rejected by the voters in 1922, and in 1934 when the voters refused another constitutional revision.

Illinois fifth convention met at a time when the problems of government and the circumstances of the state were different from those of the past. Institutions and many of its people are the most critical in the history of the state.

The cities decay, and neither private capital nor public finance can control the erosion. Air and water pollution threaten the public health.

Local government proliferates so rapidly that the state cannot maintain current records. Critics of government complain that the real cost is the cost of the constitution, which is so defective grams operating and partly subsidized in the county.

The offer of enough state funds to temporarily maintain the status quo at the Quad-Cities Center should be accepted by the local board, and we hope the existing staff stays on. This would provide the state department with sufficient time during the winter to clarify the proper roles of the various mental health governing levels—not only in Madison county but in all Illinois counties.

It was tough enough getting the Horse-shoe Lake state park approved; the provision of property acquisition funds took decades to achieve. Its development should be given as clear a path as possible, lest it take still another decade or two.

Unanimity on recreation priorities in Madison and St. Clair counties is unlikely to be achieved, a discussion by planners and officials this month made clear. This could be but need not be a handicap.

Any commission that would be created to foster park development should take a somewhat positive attitude toward all reasonable proposals, rather than urging that one be slowed on the faulty theory that this might expedite another project.

Expansion of recreation facilities in this region is long overdue and steps should proceed in multiple directions. With virtually all authorities in the field emphasizing the value of urban area parks, this highly urbanized region may well be "where the action is" for some time and on a scale undreamed of in the past.

Mutual cooperation, not rivalry, ought to be the approach, whether on an informal basis or through a commission.

F-15 Plane Contract Puts Emphasis Where It Ought to Be—On Quality, Performance

Because the Quad-Cities are affected to a considerable degree by the economy of the bi-state metropolitan area, there is jubilation here over the selection of the Douglas Co. to build the new Air Force F-15 fighter plane in a $7.7 billion program extending into the 1980s.

The Nixon administration rates high marks for allowing the contract to be awarded on merit.

The planes will be built for a Republican federal hierarchy in a basically Democratic region—but by a firm whose "track record" in aircraft and defense is one of performance rather than problems, success rather than excuses.

It is impossible not to recall at this point that the Johnson administration recommended to award the F11 contract to a Texas-based manufacturer. It hardly seems a coincidence that the latter plan has been plagued throughout its history by serious weight, economy and safety deficiencies, rendering it valueless despite what was said to be a bright potential.

Constitutional Convention Launched at Crucial Point in State History

(Public Administration Service)

Taxes are high and promise to go higher, and yet government has a most difficult time of it. The cost of its social obligations.

Crime in the streets is so pervasive that Chicago newspaper headlines the event when the city is without a murder for a period of 72 hours.

Teacher disputes threaten the system of public education, student unrest threatens the desired order, and the government is in a state of confusion.

In most cases, the language of the constitution produced a desired result. The old problems disappeared, government prospered, and order and certainty grew out of incipient chaos.

Unfortunately, the specificity of language and detail left the people with a document which did not anticipate nor even acknowledge that the rules of one era might throw another.

Now, its purposeful rigidity stunts the growth of government, preventing it from developing as the people require.

For local government, this problem is particularly acute. The constitution forces into absolute patterns and habits of 19th Century vintage, conceived solely for the purpose of controlling free-wheeling and free-spending public officials.

As the eighth decade of the 20th Century approaches, however, local government needs to spend, it needs to expand, and it needs to rearrange itself. It cannot do so because an aged document forbids it.

Now the people have another opportunity to rewrite the rules by which they order their government.

Whether they succeed in producing what local government requires depends in large measure upon knowledge of the present constitution, the reasons for its content, and the impact it has had on government struggling in a modern era.

The term "local government" is used in an all-inclusive sense, referring to every unit of government—county, township, municipality, special district, school district, public authority, and otherwise—which is not a part of state government, which is created and controlled locally, and which serves a local governmental purpose.

The powers which local government and its role under the constitution must start from the principle that local government exists wholly by consent of the legislature and is absolutely subject to legislative control.

Exceptions to the legislative power must be stated in the constitution itself. The powers which local government may exercise are limited to those expressly granted by legislature and those implied by necessity in its corporate purposes.

These concepts are not found in the holdings on the constitution from a series of judicial decisions of a century or more ago. The concepts of the constitution which relate to local government, then, must be interpreted in light of this subversive.

Reasons for the River Festival

(Alestle—Student Newspaper at SIU-SW)

Why have the Mississippi River Festival (summer concert series)?

1. It is an opportunity to provide an in-depth educational experience in the arts for Southern Illinois University students specifically, and students of all the area colleges.

2. It is a valid recognition of the importance of the desires of today's youth.

3. It is an opportunity to cooperate with area elementary and secondary schools in providing an educational center for the performing arts.

4. It is an opportunity for experimental educational programs in the fine arts.

5. It is an opportunity to affect a wide population strata and expose the University and the Festival to the geographic region. A summer Festival similar to those in other parts of the country such as Ravenna, Tanglewood and Meadowbrook.

6. It provides a vehicle for bringing major cultural and artistic attractions to the wide area, both geographically and in population, served by the University.

7. It provides the offering of educational, social and cultural advantages which could not be received in any other way.

8. It provides the offering of educational, social and cultural advantages which could not be received in any other way.

BE KIND TO YOUR GUESTS

Last year, about this time, I wrote a column on how you could outwit your hostess. I dealt with the perils of being a guest during the Holiday season if you had a weight control problem.

Now, let's talk about the hostess from the standpoint of you being the hostess. In other words, how you can be considerate of your guests and not then turn up with unwanted calories.

You could, of course, serve rich food if you also provide enough exercise to work off the excess calories. We discussed this business of being able to eat more if you exercise enough in last week's column. Thus, if you live on a ski slope, or want to stage a winter cross-country hike, rich foods for your guests would be all right.

But for the average hostess, who is simply going to entertain her friends in the living or family room, let's figure on a less rich and less vigorous routine.

What To Avoid

You can avoid rich gravies, all gravies, in fact. And you can trim the fat from all meats you serve. But better cuts of meat.

Avoid offering, especially for the holidays, an enormous quantity of cake or pie as desserts. Do not serve bread and rolls in excess. Easy on salad dressings and dressings in general.

Do not avoid large quantities of cake or pie as desserts. Do not be upset if some guests leave part of your dessert at the table, or turn it down entirely.

Allow Restraint

And as you serve hors d'oeuvres, allow your guest to exercise restraint. If you've a friend that insists on being helped every time by standing around your party with trays of goodies, get her to relax, to stop unloading her d'oeuvres on your guests as fast as they can be turned out in the kitchen. People will take one every time the tray passes, either absentmindedly, or feeling they must. Better to leave the stuff at the buffet table where they have to at least walk to get it.

People will eat this all smacks of something less than hospitality. But we agree, after all, talking about it is to avoid large quantities of cake or pie as desserts. Do not be upset if some guests leave part of your dessert at the table, or turn it down entirely.

50 YEARS AGO

DECEMBER 29, 1919

A southbound freight train on the Washburn Railroad was stopped one mile north of Nemo and a couple of freight cars were robbed in a daring manner. The train was stopped by cutting the air, automatically applying the brakes and halting the train.

The head brakeman went down the string of cars to learn what the trouble was and noticed a man about the center of the train. The man showed a gun in his face and the brakeman ran to the rear of the train while two other men broke into cars and loaded merchandise into a waiting automobile truck. They then drove off, telling the brakeman he could take his train along to its destination. Secret service men are working on the case.

The Illinois fifth convention met at a time when the problems of government and the circumstances of the state were different from those of the past. Institutions and many of its people are the most critical in the history of the state.

The cities decay, and neither private capital nor public finance can control the erosion. Air and water pollution threaten the public health.

Farm Column

By WARREN W. BUNDY,
Madison County Farm Adviser

Farmers Tax Guide

Farmers can get free copies of the 1970 edition of the Farmers tax guide at the county Extension office.

This guide explains in everyday language how to prepare and file income tax returns. It also has illustrated examples which apply to actual farming situations and sample returns keyed to explanations.

Among other things, the guide tells what income must be reported, what farm expenses may be deducted and how to claim depreciation and soil and water conservation expenses.

The 47-page booklet also lists important dates to remember for filing tax returns, including when social security taxes are due. The U. S. Treasury Department's Internal Revenue Service prepared the guide with the advice and assistance of the Federal Extension Service.

This tax guide stresses the importance of good records in filing a proper return.

Poor advice at tax-planning time is costly. We suggest that farmers seek good professional tax help and be willing to pay for it.

The newest tax rules may confuse some farmers, but remember you don't need to know all of the tax-filing details.

If your "long suit" is growing corn or raising hogs, then concentrate your business and hire competent help to fill out and file your tax return.

Many local tax practitioners attended recent farm income tax training schools conducted by the U. of I. Cooperative Extension Service and the Internal Revenue Service. These schools, tax consultants learned about new laws and interpretations of existing laws related to farm income tax.

A good tax specialist should fill out your tax forms and keep tax records on file from year to year. He should also keep you up-to-date on new tax laws and rulings as well as on new ideas for tax planning and savings. A fee of $50 or more is not unreasonable for this complete service.

A tax specialist can do a better job of saving your dollars if you have complete and accurate records. Lack of good records and depreciation schedules often means farmers pay too much income tax.

Protein for Cattle

Now that corn harvest is completed here, several beef producers will be turning feed cattle out on cornstalks, land. Such cattle need extra protein to grow satisfactorily. Silage or hay may be needed as the fields are cleaned up and protein needs can be furnished in these feeds.

Protein can also be furnished in protein blocks. It's often easier to start feeding blocks when cattle are a little hungry.

A good system of regulating protein intake is to put protein cubes on the ground every other day. Cattle learn to come quickly to where the cubes are spread. This also provides a good time for checking your cattle.

About one-half to one pound of a 40% protein supplement will improve rate of gain in feeder cattle grazing cornstalks.

This is an old question, but people still ask it. Is wet corn better feed for swine than dry corn? Work at the U. of I. and Purdue Experiment Stations indicate that a pound of dry matter has equal value in either form.

Whether you feed wet or dry corn to hogs should depend on which best fits your overall farm management program, not because there is a nutritional difference as far as your pigs are concerned.

Winter Work on Farm

Farm work activities in Madison county are slow now that harvest is complete. But farmers will be quick to tell you there is always something to do on the farm.

Farm machinery is being repaired as needed before it is stored for next season. Some farmers are chopping or disking cornstalks. Only a little fall plowing was done.

Farm accounts are being brought up to date, and settlements are being made between landowners and tenants. Tax filing time is near.

Livestock producers have the usual daily chores of feeding and taking care of animals. And there are the buildings and fences to repair and brush to cut, although we don't "cut" much brush any more.

Winter is a good time to kill brush on the farm. You can clean out pasture and fence rows at a time when field work is slack. With herbicides you can do the job without spending a long time in the cold.

A big advantage of winter treatment is that there is less danger of chemical drift onto susceptible plants. But it's still a good idea to be careful, even in winter, when spraying near orchards, shrubs, and ornamental trees.

It is always best to spray when there is little or no wind. Be sure the spray and drift hit only the brush you want to kill.

For best results, choose the ester form of 2,4,5-T for winter treatment. It kills more species and is more effective on many species than either 2,4-D or 2,4,6-T mixtures. Some woody plants are not easily killed even with 2,4,5-T the first time. You may have to follow up with another treatment next year.

Use a basal bark treatment, spraying or painting the lower part of the tree trunk with a mixture of a gallon of 2,4,5-T containing 4 pounds of active ingredient mixed with 25 gallons of kerosene, diesel oil, or fuel oil. This amount is the same as one pint in three gallons of oil.

Completely circle the trunk and cover it thoroughly with spray to a height of 15 inches above the ground. Apply the spray until it runs down the bark and begins to wet the soil. Mixing an oil-soluble dye or a little paint with the spray will mark the treated areas. One gallon spray material should treat about 33 trees three inches in diameter or about 10 trees two inches in diameter.

Use the cut-surface treatment for trees over four inches in diameter. They often have bark too thick for basal sprays to penetrate well. Apply the herbicide through cuts or frills in the bark. You can make a frill by ringing the trunk of the tree with overlapping saw cuts that penetrate the sawwood at least one-fourth inch. Fill these frills with the basal spray solution.

Other kinds of brush which are available as granules or pellets for soil treatment. They may be applied any time the ground is not frozen. Late winter or early spring applications usually give best results from these herbicides.

Production Expenses

Farm production expenses were higher in 1969. Through December 1969, farmers had spent about 6.5% more for production items than they did for the same period in 1968. Farmers were using an increased volume of production items, but most of the increase was due to higher unit costs. The index of prices paid was up 5.5%.

Labor rates, up 15%, had the biggest price rise. Building and fencing materials were up 10%. Machinery and equipment increased about 5%. Taxes were running about 7% above a year earlier and interest rates were also higher. Fertilizer prices were up about 5% from a year earlier.

Army Announces

Medical Skills Plan

"Qualified men and women now may receive faster promotions as well as special training in selected medical skills under the new Army Medical Skills Enlistment option," Sgt. Morris Cook, local Army recruiter, announced this week.

To enlist under the new option, applicants must meet basic eligibility requirements and be technically qualified for training in medical skills. Male applicants may enlist without regard to the number of dependents, while women enlist must have no dependents under the age of 18.

Special fields covered by this option are brace specialist, dental or medical laboratory assistant, dental, occupational therapy or X-ray assistant, dental hygienist or physical therapist.

Interested personnel may contact Sgt. Cook at 1296 N. Ringhaus avenue or call 676-5950.

2 New Medical Benefits For Disabled Veterans

Two new medical benefits for service-disabled war veterans are authorized in legislation approved recently by the President, John F. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration office in Chicago, announced today.

Naser said that war veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from service-connected causes can now receive outpatient care at VA hospitals and clinics for non-service-connected conditions as well as for their service-connected conditions.

He explained that outpatient care has, in the past, been available only for medical conditions that were service related.

The new rules, authorized in Public Law 91-102, dated Oct. 30, 1969, entitle the war veteran in service-connected total disability status to medical care without the need for an examination as to the exact relation of a particular condition and the service-connected disability, Naser explained.

Also approved on Oct. 30 was Public Law 91-101 which re-

New Illinois Guide Gives Local Coverage

Granite City is among more than 600 Illinois cities and towns described in the "Illinois Guide and Gazetteer," just published by Rand McNally & Co. of Chicago. The origins, characteristics and points of interest are given for most of the communities described in the first comprehensive guide to the state to be published in more than two decades.

In addition to the gazetteer section, the 718-page, $12.50 guidebook also has sections on state history and development and 14 detailed automobile tours covering all sections of the state. The descriptions of communities range from a small section for smaller towns to more than 90 pages on Chicago. It is illustrated with maps and photographs.

Published in cooperation with the Illinois Sesqui-Centennial Commission, the Guide is distributed through book and department stores as both a travel guide and reference book for students and Illinois history buffs. No similarly comprehensive guide to the state has been published since a WPA-sponsored publication of 1939.

Data given on Granite City follows:

GRANITE CITY — Pop., 39,500; Madison County. Large industrial plants with tall stacks and railroad tracks with switching freight trains dominate the 7.4 square miles of this city across the Mississippi river from St. Louis. It is north of East St. Louis and eight miles from the central business district of the Missouri metropolis. Nine trunk lines and two terminal railroads serve the city. A harbor with 90 feet of public dock and warehousing is on the Chain of Rocks Canal which bypasses shoals of the Mississippi, turbulent in low-water stages. Much of the population of Granite City labors in the round-the-clock operation of the heavy industries, which also attract workers from the neighboring cities of Madison, Venice, Brooklyn and East St. Louis.

Granite City was founded as an industrial complex. Farmer-settlers came from the South as early as 1815, but the city was not conceived until William F. Neidringhaus, a St. Louis industrialist, bought 3000 acres here in 1891. The following year he built the National Enameling and Stamping Company plant, a rolling mill, and scores of two-family "flats."

The American Steel Foundry opened in 1893. The city was incorporated in 1896. Today, in addition to the Granite City Steel Co., there are the Union Division, Miles Laboratories; National Lead Co.; Hubbell Metals Inc.; Reilly Tur and Chemical Corp.; The Nestle Co., Inc.; Nesco Steel Barrel Co.; Smith Douglas Co., Inc.; Diamond Plating Co.; Royal Crown Cola Co.; Cargill, Inc.; Air Products and Chemicals, Inc.; Jenness-Wright Corp.; General Steel Industries and St. Louis Slag Products.

Granite City also houses one of the largest armory corps deposits in America, receiving, storing, and shipping supplies for armed forces throughout the world.

Caring for Terry Towels

To get maximum wear from terry towels, launder them properly and use them on a rotating basis to allow a rest period after laundering. Any fabric will wear longer if subjected to short periods of stress with rest periods between instead of being subjected to continuous stress. When you will want to follow these care tips:

—If tears or rips occur, repair them immediately. If a loop becomes snagged, do not pull the thread. Instead, cut the snagged loop at the surface of the fabric.

—Launder towels frequently; soil that is permitted to build up on the towel grinds away at the fabric, causing it to wear out more quickly.

—Launder deep-colored towels separately or with items of a similar color. Sometimes towels' colors "bleed" when washed. This release of excess dye in the wash water will not affect the color of the towels, but it may dye other items in the same wash load.

Light-colored towels generally are resistant to laundering. And you can usually use bleach to remove stains from them.

If a new towel does not feel as soft and as absorbent as you would like, launder it before use. Manufacturers sometimes apply a temporary finishing agent to the towel.

When laundering towels, you may use a fabric softener occasionally in the final rinse water. But don't use fabric softeners with each laundering. The softener will build up a water-repellent film on the fabric surface over a period of time. Laundering once or twice without the softener will remove the film.

Be especially careful to remove all traces of soap during laundering. Soap residue makes a fabric feel stiff and harsh.

Terry towels that have been dried in a dryer will be more absorbent than line dried towels.

Parking Lot Accident

Dorothy Zimmerman, 2221a Grand avenue, reported at 6:30 p.m. Friday that the right side of her car was damaged while it was parked on a lot at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

Wallet Lost or Stolen

Pat Price, 4107 Kirkpatrick avenue, reported at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday that her wallet was lost or stolen in September. It contained her driver's permit, photos and other items.

House Burglarized

Burglars forced the rear door of the home of Clifford Moeller, 2408 Kilmarry drive, while the occupants were gone last week. It was reported at 10 p.m. Friday. Nothing was missing.

Variety of Programs On Educational TV

Three entirely different subjects will be aired on Kete, Channel 9 beginning in January. It was announced this week.

"They Went That 'a' Way," a series of 10 programs, will begin Tuesday, Jan. 6, at 7:30 p.m. and is to present Westerns and commentaries. Members may enroll in the course and obtain a viewer's guide, free, non-members fee is $10.

"Cantabury Tales, a series of 10 tales will include commentaries by Chaucerian scholar Dr. Thomas Garbath on medieval England as well as the themes, characters, and plots of the tales. Telecast time is 9 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 7. A book and viewer's guide for the course is $3 for Channel 9 members and $13 for non-members.

"Joyce Chen Cooks" is a series of 28 lessons in Chinese cuisine, to be telecast at 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 7, and features Joyce Chen, a native of Peking who now owns a restaurant in Cambridge. Enrollment in the course, a cookbook, and recipes are $10 for members and $20 for non-members.

Enrollment requests may be mailed to: Kete, 6906 Millbrook Avenue, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

Efficient Reading Course to Be Aired

Dr. James I. Brown, reading specialist from the University of Minnesota, who will teach Efficient Reading, a 10-part telecourse to be aired at 9:30 p.m., Fridays, beginning Jan. 9 on Channel 9, will explain a power that can increase reading speed up to three times.

Dr. Brown bases the course on teaching 14 master words that unlock the meaning of at least 14,000 more, or up to 100,000 from big unbridged dictionaries. Some research shows word-power contributes more than any other single factor to reading speed and comprehension.

Besides increased reading rate and comprehension, the course objectives are to promote reading flexibility, to stimulate further growth in word power, to facilitate more effective organizing of reading activities, to sharpen perceptual skills and develop complementary skills of listening, speaking and writing.

Cost for a viewer's guide, textbook and timer is $5 to members and $15 to non-members by sending a request to Kete, 6906 Millbrook Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Madison County Among Top Milk Producers In State

Madison county is among the top dairy counties in Illinois with more than $3 millions annual sale of milk from 7600 cows, it was reported this week by W. W. Bundy, Madison county extension adviser at Edwinstown.

Only 12 other counties in the state, most of them near Chicago, rank higher in dairying than Madison county.

"We have several advantages for the dairy enterprise here. We are located near a large population center where much milk and milk products are consumed," Bundy pointed out. "Much of our land is well suited to dairying. Fertile, rolling land grows high quality hay and pasture crops for dairy feed. Grain crops and corn for silage are raised on level land to balance the dairy cow's ration."

Industrious Farmers
"And we have industrious farmers who are willing to milk cows twice a day, including Christmas day. Consumers can list many milk products they enjoy and value in their diet. Many prefer plain milk, some like chocolate milk, others honey, yogurt, cottage cheese, butter, cream—the list of milk products goes on and on."

"Milk is probably produced under more rigid sanitary precautions than any other farm product," Bundy explained. "Mention the word 'inspector' to any dairymen and he immediately becomes alert. Inspectors make regular visits to every dairy farm to make sure that high-quality milk is produced under sanitary conditions. The inspector has a long list of items he checks on each visit. No dairymen wants to get a 'mark' on his sheet. Also, several laboratory tests are made at the milk plant on the milk from each dairy farm."

Special Techniques
"Dairy farms are exceptions to many of the pesticide recommendations we make for pest control on other farms. Special techniques for fly control must be used on dairy farms. Every dairymen knows he cannot risk milk quality problems."

"Several Madison county dairymen heard University of Illinois extension specialists give the latest dairy production and management recommendations at a recent multi-county meeting at Trenton.

"Diazinon, dylatone, dasanit, and thimet are non-persistent insecticides recommended for control of corn and soil insects on dairy farms."

"Cows, of course, must be washed before milking. One wash solution is three tablespoons bleach per gallon of water. The bleach is ordinary liquid household bleach containing sodium hypochlorite. Then dip each cow's teats in a solution of one gallon bleach and one quart of water right after milking. Only one of the bleaches commonly available is approved for dairy use. Call your county extension adviser for further information."

"Three basic steps for maximum profits from feeding dairy cows have not changed for many years. These are: Feed good quality roughage according to the cow's appetite. Prepare a simple grain mixture to supplement the roughage you feed. Feed grain according to the milk production of each cow.

Production Gains
"Dairymen in Madison county have followed a nation-wide trend the past 25 years. Dairy farms have become larger, fewer in number, less total number of cows, but higher production per cow. The average dairy cow in Madison county today produces nearly twice as much milk per year as the average cow produced 25 years ago.

Highest Herds
The ten highest producing herds in Madison County herd improvement in November are owned by Harold and Carl Baumann, Milton Hitz, Harold Klenke, Mrs. Freda Linenbrocker, Donald Sievers, Hilmer and Martin Schoenbaum, Henry Zoeller, O. John Pletcher, Walter Sievers and Joe and Edwin Fessler.

Highest producing herd for the month was owned by Harold and Carl Baumann. This herd consisted of 60 cows. Average production was 1.49 pounds of butterfat and 42 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.5 percent.

Completing the 365 days lactation with a record of 600 pounds fat or more was a 6 yr. old in the herd of Milton Hitz with 21,632 lbs. milk and 775 lbs. butterfat and a 2 yr. old with 15,272 lbs. milk and 607 lbs. fat; a 4 yr. old in the herd of Kenneth and Loretta Weber with 14,460 lbs. milk and 631 lbs. fat; an 8 yr. old in the herd of Mrs. Freda Linenbrocker with 14,119 lbs. milk and 601 lbs. fat and a 2 yr. old with 15,125 lbs. milk and 602 lbs. fat; a 4 yr. old in the herd of Eugene Meffert with 17,965 lbs. milk and 696 lbs. fat and an older 4 yr. old with 17,150 lbs. milk and 638 lbs. fat and in the herd of Harold and Carl Baumann a 4 yr. old with 16,721 lbs. milk and 618 lbs. fat.

Suffers Back Injury In Jump from Auto

George McGhee, Greiner Homes, Madison, was treated about 12:40 a.m. Thursday for a back injury suffered, police reported, when he jumped out of an auto.

Police said they received a call that a woman was lying in the street in the 1100 block of Madison Avenue and dispatched an ambulance. Police said the woman later told them she became dizzy when she was involved in an argument with her husband and jumped from the car.

Breaks Fire Plug

Snow accumulated in the center of the street caused the car of Johnnie L. Jackson, 205 Watson street, Eagle Park Acres, to slide in the 1200 block of State street about 1:45 p.m. Thursday, strike a power pole and then break off a fire plug. Madison police reported. Jackson told officers he was southbound on State street and started to pass another auto when his car began skidding. The power pole was undamaged but the top was broken off the fireplug, requiring repairs by the water company, police said.

Motor Short Circuit

Firemen were called to the home of Clifford Gerling, 1413a Twenty-first street, at 8 a.m. Friday when a short circuit developed in a furnace blower motor. Damage was estimated at $50.

Funeral Service Held For Frank Grady, 59

Funeral services were held Saturday at St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ for Frank Raymond Grady, 59, of 3187 Myrtle avenue, who was killed Tuesday night when struck in the chest by the hook of an overhead crane at Granite City Steel Co.

Mr. Grady, a member of a service crew in the steel mill's hot rolled finishing department, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was born in Iberia, Mo., and had resided in Granite City since 1928.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Genevieve Grady; two sons, Thomas, of Granite City, and Frank, of Houston, Tex.; seven brothers, two sisters and eight grandchildren.

Battery Charge Filed

John Marsala, 19, of 211 Swing avenue, Madison, was arrested by Granite City police at 4:20 a.m. Thursday on a warrant charging battery. He was released on notice to appear.

Collide in Venice

Rear-end damage to an auto driven by Charles C. Hitchcock, 113 Venice Homes, resulted from an accident in the 1000 block of Fourth street about 1 a.m. Thursday, police reported. Officers said Hitchcock's car was struck from the rear by an auto driven by Thomas D. Johnnie, East St. Louis, which was undamaged. Johnnie said his car skidded on icy pavement.

Rug, Shirts Stolen

An 8x10-foot yellow rug and 14 shirts were stolen in a burglary at the Big Washer laundry, 2247 Madison avenue, it was reported at 11:20 p.m. Thursday. Entry was gained by forcing an inner door to the dry cleaning section.

SANTA CLAUS DIGS IN, producing another gift for a delightful young patient confined in the pediatrics ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital during the Christmas holidays. Santa Claus made his annual appearance last week, courtesy the Granite City Jaycees who hosted the children's party.

Jaycees Host Hospital Party; Present Covers

Smiles and excited chatter filled the Pediatrics Ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week when Santa Claus, sporting a long, curly beard, arrived with a large sack of toys for his annual call on youthful patients confined at the hospital during the holiday season.

Santa's visit highlighted the annual children's Christmas party, hosted by the Granite City Jaycees. A traditional project of the young men's service club, the affair was called "our most enjoyable and worthwhile experience," by Ron Deponia, the Jaycees project chairman.

The party also afforded Jaycees officials an opportunity to present two plastic crib covers to the hospital administrators. The domed see-through covers replace the netting tops, previously used to prevent small children from climbing and falling from cribs.

In addition to Santa's visit, the youngsters, ranging in age from toddlers to 12-year-olds, were entertained with a magical show and a Christmas movie.

Holiday treats and other refreshments were served by members of the Jaycees. Soft drinks were donated for the party by Pepsi Cola Co., DoConia said.

Assisting the chairman in arranging the event were Jaycees Wayne Worthen and Gene Hen-son.

Parked Auto Struck

The left door of the auto of Larry Milton, 2627 Lincoln avenue, was struck by a hit-and-run driver while parked in front of his home during the night. It was reported at 11:50 a.m. Sunday.

The Imperials will Give Program Here

"The Imperials," voted Gospel Music's number one male quartet by the Gospel Music Association, will present a gospel concert on Sunday, Jan. 4 at 2:30 p.m. at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Maryville rd. and Clark avenue. The pastor, Rev. John Polizzi said the public is invited.

Since its inception in 1963, the group has presented a special brand of gospel music coast-to-coast in major auditorium gospel concerts, college and university programs and on major television programs. The Imperials have been featured on the "Gospel Music Singing Jubilee," "Singing Time in Dixie" and "America Sings." Their 14 albums are presently best sellers.

Pet Dog Adds to Her Family's Yule Cheer

Ronnie six years old, and Jennifer, three, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Nichols, 2471 Center street received an extra Christmas present — in fact, nine extra gifts.

Their three-year-old Irish setter, Susie Ann, became the mother of nine puppies on Christmas Day.

Charged with Criminal Damage to Property

Two Granite City youths were charged with criminal damage to property following their arrest about one block from where the windshield was smashed on a 1963 auto, owned by Daisy Cassidy, 1413 Madison avenue, at 4:15 a.m. today.

Raymond English, 18, of 2013 Grand avenue, and Bob Duncan, 17, of 129 East Chain of Rocks, road, were booked by Granite City police and held pending a hearing after two men were observed breaking the car windshield. The pair initially was apprehended by Madison Officer William Papa near the scene of the vandalism.

Faces Two Charges

Charges of attempting to flee or elude a police officer at 14th and Iowa streets and driving too fast for conditions were filed yesterday against Charles J. Polach, 26, of 1321 Washington avenue. Polach was arrested at 15th street and Madison avenue at 2:15 p.m. yesterday. Bond was set at $75 and a hearing scheduled for Jan. 26.

Auto Door Struck

An auto driven by Clark D. Gallagher, Dupu, struck the left front door of the auto Cheryl D. Hawk, 4011 Melrose avenue, which was open while parked at the Mobil service station lot at 20th street and Madison street at 11:50 p.m. Sunday.

Mank Police Hearing Continued to Tonight

A hearing by the Granite City Board of Fire and Police Commissioners for Patrolman Louis Mank, which opened Saturday morning, was continued until 7 p.m. today in the city council room of the city hall. It is open to the public.

Mank is facing 13 charges dealing generally with inefficiency in office for events up to 42 months ago which were filed by Police Chief Ronald Veizer.

The hearing started with testimony from two officials of the Gem store in Namook township where Mank has been employed on a part-time basis as a security guard.

They are David Charlton of Granite City, controller, and Mrs. Clarice Wright of Belleville, assistant controller at the store, who produced records of dates and hours worked by Mank.

Douglas Street Crash

A collision in the 1100 block of Douglas street, Venice, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday damaged the left rear of the westbound car of Ira Wilson, 1107 Douglas street, and left front of the auto of John Saddler, police were notified. The latter vehicle had slid on snow and ice.

Theatre Is Searched

A search of the Washington theatre from 8:35 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. Saturday revealed no injurious devices, and it was not necessary to interrupt the motion picture program. A young boy had telephoned the cashier to report a "bomb."

Auto Battery Stolen

A battery was stolen Saturday from the 1961 auto of Robert Gavin, Madison, at Third street and Cambridge avenue, East Madison, the sheriff was notified.

Station Window Broken

A front window was found broken at the DX service station, 15th and State streets, about 11 p.m. Sunday. There was no entry.

Monument to be Erected Soon at Lewis-Clark Park

Future plans for development of Lewis and Clark Memorial Park may include a parking area and a monument commemorating the 1804 frontier expedition, Illinois Conservation Director William L. Rutherford said today.

A gift to Illinois of 168 acres of land from the Army Corps of Engineers 10 days ago greatly enlarged the Mississippi river park.

Frequent flooding of much of the park land prohibits its extensive development, Rutherford said.

He said the Department of Conservation, which administers state parks, plans to erect a monument noting the launching of the famed Lewis and Clark expedition and build a parking area with access to Illinois Route 3 nearby.

"By leaving this land in its natural and wild state, people will have a chance to see it much as it appeared to the pioneers of a century and a half ago," Rutherford added.

Although he declined to estimate the cost of the project, the conservation director noted it would be "far, far less" than the extensive development which had been considered earlier but rejected because it was "unrealistic and unfeasible."

Small Business Guide on Federal Taxes Available

The answers to a wide range of questions businessmen have about Federal income, excise and employment taxes can be found quickly in the 1970 edition of "Tax Guide for Small Business," Publication 334.

It was announced this week by Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue Service, Springfield, Ill.

The business tax guide contains a tax calendar for 1970 giving the dates on which the various tax and information returns and payments are due.

A checklist is included which enables businessmen to identify quickly all taxes they may have to pay. Information on each tax and the forms required also can be located from the checklist.

The "Tax Guide for Small Business" costs 50 cents and may be obtained from IRS offices in Alton, Belleville, and East St. Louis. The publication also may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Lester F. Yates, 52, Dies; GCS Steelworker

Lester F. Yates, 52, of 1301 Madison avenue, Madison, died at 5:45 p.m. yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill for several months and entered the hospital ten days ago.

Mr. Yates was employed at Granite City Steel Co., where he was a member of United Steelworkers of America, Local 30. He had not worked since becoming seriously ill in August.

He was a native of Carthageville, Mo., and had resided in East St. Louis before moving to Madison several years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elva Yates; one daughter, Marilyn Yates, 12 years, at home; two sons, Lester Yates Jr., of Madison, Thomas Yates of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Michael, Ronald and Gregory Yates, all of Decatur; one sister, Mrs. Henry (Helen) Smith of Orlando, Fla.; and four grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being given in today's obituary column.

Head-on Collision

An auto driven by Raymond Schmidt, 440 Division street, crossed the yellow line and collided head-on with a car driven by Kenneth C. Wier, 12 Frontenac lane, at 3:20 p.m. Friday in the 2500 block of Pontoon road, police were told.

House Ramsacked

Burglars ransacked the home of Mrs. Kathleen Sheppard, 2139 East 24th street, it was reported at 5:25 p.m. Wednesday. As the owner was away, it was unknown if anything was missing. The intruders were frightened away by a neighbor.

dear brother of Mrs. Helen Smith; dear grandfather.

Funeral services 11 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 31, KASSLY FUNERAL HOME, 1101 North 9th street, East St. Louis. Interment Mount Hope Cemetery, Belleville. Friends may call after 7 p.m. today.

Traffic Signal Charge

A traffic signal violation ticket was issued to Gerald L. Miller, Liberty, Mo., at 7:05 p.m. Friday at Madison avenue and Nameoki road.

Charges Against Two

Breaking up what appeared to be the makings of a fight between ten people in three autos at Broadway and Fourth street, Venice, at 4:15 a.m. Saturday, Venice police filed disorderly conduct charges against Paul D. Lusk, 21, of 34 Garcesse Homes, and Frank C. Broyles, 22, of 2090 McCasland avenue, Madison. Lusk also was booked for resisting arrest and refusing to obey an order to disperse. Hearings were set for Jan. 14.

Backs Into Parked Car

An auto driven by Edward Muniak, Falls Church, Va., backed from a driveway at 2004 Richmond avenue at 9:25 p.m. Thursday and struck the left rear of the parked auto of Michael Sansouci, 601 Margaret

GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McKissick, 2976 Iowa street, who will hold open house Jan. 4, at the Masonic Temple in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Open House Planned Sunday For Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McKissick, 2976 Iowa street, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Jan. 4, at an open house from 2 to 5 o'clock at the Masonic Temple, 20th street and Cleveland blvd. Both he and Mrs. McKissick are members of Central Christian Church, and Mrs. McKissick, a past worthy high priestess of Gabriel Shrine, is also a member of New Hope Chapter OES, and the Daughters of the Nile.

BRIDE-TO-BE. Miss Marilyn Ann Story, whose engagement to Nathan Bailey is announced.

Wedding Date To Be Feb. 7

Miss Marilyn Ann Story will be married to Nathan Bailey, her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Vaught, 3528 Emree street, has announced. The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Bailey, 2807 Roosevelt street. The wedding will take place Feb. 7, at Second Baptist Church.

TODD ERIC HINTERSEY IS BAPTIZED

Todd Eric Hintersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hintersey Jr., 3707 Fair Oaks drive, was baptized yesterday at the Dewey Avenue Methodist Church with Rev. John Ambury officiating. After the ceremony, a buffet dinner was served at the Hintersey home to the Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Grove and sons, George and Tim; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Cavar and daughters, Cheryl and Nancy; Mrs. Mary Andria; Mrs. Josephine Knezevich; Mrs. Elizabeth Malincheff; Norman Past Jr.; Miss Charlene Volosky; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schneider and children, Dan and Wendy; John Uzonoff;

HOLIDAY ENGAGEMENT. Miss Marleen Schwent, who will be married to Richard J. Lucido.

Engagement Is Announced

Another of the holiday engagements announced was that of Miss Marleen Schwent, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Schwent, 1617 Wellington drive, and Richard J. Lucido, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Lucido Jr., 3401 Franklin avenue. The wedding will take place at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

The engagement was disclosed Christmas Eve in the home of the bride. Wedding plans have not been made.

The Granite City high school is presently attending SIU-SW, where she is a junior nursing student. Her fiancé graduated from Assumption high school in East St. Louis and attended St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Tex. He is currently attending St. Louis University and is a junior, majoring in psychology and special education.

The engagement was disclosed Christmas Eve in the home of the bride. Wedding plans have not been made.

MRS. LARRY A. JONES, a bride of Saturday afternoon. Before her wedding she was Marsha Lynn Walker.

Miss Walker, Larry Jones Exchange Wedding Vows

The wedding of Miss Marsha Lynn Walker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus D. Walker, 2261 Woodlawn avenue, and CWO Larry Alan Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jones, Litchfield, Ill., took place Saturday afternoon at St. John United Church of Christ.

Rev. Paul R. Surbey officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Irene Barrick was organist, and Miss Beverly Dorch was vocalist.

The bride wore a gown of ivory delustrated satin, fashioned with a yoke of Chantilly lace, a high neckline and long bishop sleeves. Pearls and iridescent etched bodice and scalloped lace bordered the hemline of the skirt, terminating in a full court train, lavishly adorned with lace motifs. A large flat bow of satin held the full cathedral mantilla of imported French illusion edged in a wide border of lace and pearls, and the bride carried a cascade of white carnations and greenery.

Miss Cathy Thies was honor attendant, serving with Mrs. Tanya Walker, a sister-in-law of the bride, bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in Christmas red velvet. The gowns were styled with Empire waists and high ruffled necklines, ending in deep V's in the back. Headpieces were large flat bows of matching velvet, and they carried cascades of white carnations and holly. A little flower girl, Joy Mallicoat, was dressed like the older girls and carried a basket of petals. Patrick Early was ring bearer.

Donald L. Jones was best man for his brother, and Cyrus Walker III served as groomsmen. Richard A. Walker, another brother of the bride, and Roy Carver seated the guests. Richard Bauer and Douglas Mesmer were candlelighters. Both are cousins of the bride. For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a silver ensemble with cranberry accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a deep blue dress and red accessories. Bridesmaids wore red roses. The wedding reception was held in the Officers Club at the Army Depot. Miss Janis Mehele was in charge of the guest book. Altar bouquets of white flowers and lighted hurricane lamps provided the setting for the wedding. Mr. Walker gave his daughter in marriage. After a wedding trip, the couple will live in Mineral Wells, Tex.

The bride graduated from Granite City schools and a career college in St. Louis. She has been employed by the FBI in Washington, D. C. Mr. Jones graduated from the Litchfield schools and entered the U. S. Army in 1966. He served as a helicopter pilot in Vietnam until 1968, and is presently serving as T. A. C. officer at Fort Walters, Tex.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Depot Officers Club.

RETURN TO COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanSyc and children, Janet, David, and Ronnie of Colorado Springs, Colo., left today for their home after spending the holidays with Mrs. VanSyc's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagan, 3104 Twenty-third street, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Wright, 2806 Cleveland blvd.

New Careers Available In Army for Women

S/Sgt. Morris L. Cook, U. S. Army Recruiter for this area, has announced that there are many new school openings available for young women who are looking for an interesting and challenging career.

Some of these new jobs are: Weather observer, operating room procedures, air traffic control, data processing, switch board operator, and pharmacy specialist. The latter requires at least one year of high school chemistry. Many other schools are also available in the career fields of communications, intelligence, medical, food service and administration.

Applicants must be between 18 and 34 years old, single (or legally separated), in good health, and be able to pass the necessary screening tests. Women who have not graduated from high school may qualify by passing the GED high school equivalency test.

All applicants, if found fully qualified, will attend basic training for eight weeks at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Ala. Advanced schools in the career field of the applicant's choice are conducted at various military installations throughout the United States and range in length from eight to sixteen weeks. All school assignments are guaranteed before enlistment. Applicants with two or more years of college may be eligible to apply for Officer Candidate School, applicants with a college degree are eligible for a direct commission as a lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.

Interested women are invited to write or visit Sgt. Cook at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 1206 Niedringhaus avenue. Telephone inquiries may be made by telephoning 676-9550.

You've got a lot to live Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.

TROOP YULE PARTY

Webster PTA-sponsored Junior Girl Scout Troop 704 ended its year with a Christmas party last week in the home of the leader, Mrs. Mae Lee, 2633 East 28th street. Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin assisted with the festivities.

The scouts discussed a visit to the Anna Henry nursing home in Edwardsville the previous evening. They had entertained the residents with Christmas caroling and presented gifts.

Mrs. Lee presented each scout with a gift and favors and she received gifts from the troop. The Lee home was decorated in a colorful Yule motif. Refreshments of cookies and punch followed exchanging of gifts.

HOLIDAY BUFFET DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Victor Davis, 2829 Dogwood drive, entertained with a family buffet dinner in their home Christmas Day. There was a surprise visit by Santa Claus to distribute presents for all the children.

The nuptial utilized green, gold and red hues in seasonal decor, with a lighted Christmas tree. A social hour was held preceding the evening buffet. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Rivenburgh and children, Sara, Charles and Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stille and son, Rick, and grandson, Brad Gilbert, Fred Stille, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stille and children, Scott, Eric and Ruth Ann, Mr. and Mrs. James Stille and sons, Jim and John, of Ballwin, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Ron Joyce and children, Steven, Cathy and Rhonda, Mr. and Mrs. Terry McCormick and children, Sheryl and David, and the hosts' daughters, Susan and Carol Ann.

HOLIDAY GATHERING
Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Stotz, 2271 Hodges avenue, entertained with a Christmas dinner for several members of their family in their home Thursday afternoon. A gift exchange was held around a lighted Yule tree.

The buffet table was trimmed with Christmas decorations, including miniature Santa Claus ceramic centerpieces. Pictures were taken for the family album. Guests were Mrs. Stotz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira L.

law, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hill and children, Scott, Julia and Shannon Todd, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip D. Hill and children, Phillip Jr., Michael and Tami; and the hosts' children, Kelly Stotz and Pvt. Phyllis Stotz, who is on leave from the U.S. Army base, Fort Gordon, Ga.

GIRL SCOUTS, EXPLORERS SING AT THE ANCHORAGE
Senior Girl Scout Troop 1177 and Explorer Post 96 went Christmas caroling at The Anchorage last week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oram. Mrs. Joan Oram is the advisor for the senior troop.

Later in the evening, the two units went to Niedringhaus Methodist Church for refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies.

CAROLERS FROM TROOP 1177
were Margaret Surdewant, Kathy Daek, Linda Oram, Nancy Hodge Kathy Fowler, Sharon Morgan and a guest, Sharon Duke. Post 96 participants were Denise Hasty, Bob Gunlach, Steve Kraus, Fred Shelton and Ken Deason.

SURGERY PATIENT
Deanna Oram, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oram, 2004 Wilson avenue, is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Room 414, where she was admitted Christmas Day for an emergency appendectomy. Deanna, a student at Central junior high school, will remain in the hospital for several more days. Visitors are permitted.

SANTA VISITS PARTY
Santa Claus made a surprise visit to highlight a family dinner and Yule party given by Mrs. Walter Rice and her daughter, Miss Wilma Rice, 1813 Venice avenue, in their home Thursday.

Following a traditional Christmas dinner Santa arrived to greet the children and to present them with gifts around a colorfully decked Yule tree.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Rice and children, Pamela and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice and daughters, Lorrie and DeAnn, Mrs. Alice Worthen and daughter, Sherrie, Mrs. Rene Gray and son, Bobby, and Mrs. Earl Jarrett and daughters, Vickie, Pattie and Ann Marie, Mr. and Mrs. William Worthen and sons, Matthew and Christopher, Miss Melissa Jones, Arnold Story, Richie Rice and his fiancée and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Craig and daughter, Laura.

HOLIDAY GET-TOGETHER
Mr. and Mrs. Philip McGovern, 2518 East 27th street, held a family get-together and dinner in their home Christmas Day. The buffet table was centered with a decorated Christmas tree and held holiday treats.

A gift exchange preceded the dinner for Mrs. McGovern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, sisters and brothers-in-law, Linda Lynn, who arrived in Granite City last week from Los Angeles, Calif., to spend the holidays and returned home Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. William Saka and children, Janet, Susan, Lynette and Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watkins and children, Gary, Michael, Danney, Kay, Gail and Nancy, a cousin, Mike McGovern; the hosts' sons, Philip, Darren and Sean; and the hosts' daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens and children, Deanna and Brian, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Michaels.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maynard and son, Gary stopped by for a gift exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn, 2103 Monroe street, entertained their family at an open house and exchanging of gifts Christmas Eve in their home.

Brownie Troop 492, sponsored by the Marshall school PTA, met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Skippy Kidman, 2016 Faith avenue, last week for a regular meeting and discussed a Christmas party and gift exchange held at the Kidman home earlier in the week.

The meeting opened with a formal scout flag ceremony and Mrs. Kidman read a Christmas story, "A King Is Born." One of the mothers, Mrs. Roberta Werner, read "The Wise Men Followed a Star." Santa Claus arrived and gave each Brownie a candy cane.

The girls received gifts from Mrs. Kidman and another leader, Mrs. Faye Wentz. The scouts sang the favorite Christmas carol of each troop member. During an arts and crafts session, they made spice apples trimmed with red and green ribbon and netting.

The meeting adjourned with a friendship circle and singing of "Taps." Refreshments were served to the guests and Pamela Constance, Debbie Handlon, Laurie Hollaway, Carol Ann Kidman, Christy Peach, Jackie Morris, Lisa Piquard, Kim Ragan and Sharon Werner.

A Christmas party and banquet were held Wednesday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant for 22 members and guests of the Early Bird Bowling League. The ladies bowl on Monday mornings at Bowland lanes.

The table appointments were in keeping with traditional Christmas decor. Preceding the dinner, a gift exchange was held. The secretary, Mrs. Vivian Davis, entertained with predictions from a calendar of events as each member selected a date.

Participants were Mesdames Marie Allen, Imogene Best, Barbara Blackburn, Rose Brown, Ruby Corbett, Davis, Mary Fromko, Lorraine Gilmore, Billie Harper, Jackie Hopkins, Gayle Ledbetter, Ella Minnick, Peggy Moscovitz, Shirley Murphy, Jo Ann Jarrett, Doris Stotz, June Stucke, Audrey Stutz, Ruth Youngman and guests, Misses Carol Gilmore and Joan Minnick and Pvt. Phyllis Stotz.

CAROLING, HOLIDAY PARTY FOR ROCA CLUB
The Roca young men's club carried throughout Granite City last week under the coordination of Chairman Mike DeRuntz.

With members Harry Diak dressed as Santa Claus, the club visited St. Elizabeth Hospital and the downtown area. The young men gave out toys to youngsters and holiday wishes to adults.

Guests were then picked up and the caroling was continued at The Anchorage. The Colonades and local homes. The singing was followed by a Christmas party at the home want to get a letter out accepting the resignations of the local board.

 Outlook Seemed Dark
 The letter of resignation by members of the Quad-Cities Mental Health Board was sent to members of the 708 Board Dec. 19, the day after a local board meeting in which a decision to dissolve the local board was made.
 The local board felt the 708 Board was taking an improper role in staff selection, but the board's continued existence seemed so dark that the mass resignation was decided upon.
 The Quad-Cities Mental Health Board has no intention of attempting direct operations of the Granite City mental health center after the resignation of the present local board members become effective Jan. 15.
 A new Quad-Cities board will be set up, he said, with members representing business, labor, public and civic agencies and other segments of community activity.
 Chosen by 708, Director
 "We think such a board to be fair and equitable should include a member of the school board, the Chamber of Commerce, representatives of labor and one from business, as well as members representing the hospital and the medical profession," said the board members would be selected by the newly-named clinic director.
 The 708 Board chairman said he had received a recent offer by the Illinois State Board of Health Department to provide the present Quad-Cities mental health center, but he said he would not accept it unless the 708 Board could be dissolved.
 The 708 Board chairman said he had received a recent offer by the Illinois State Board of Health Department to provide the present Quad-Cities mental health center, but he said he would not accept it unless the 708 Board could be dissolved.
 Evaluation by State
 The report made to the Board by the Quad-Cities Mental Health Board is an "evaluation of services" study on the operation of the Quad-Cities clinic. The study has been completed and is expected to be completed within the next week or ten days.
 The report is believed to praise the manner in which the local clinic has been operated. It also points out the need for a new building and the need for a new director of the Quad-City special education district.
 Madison county politicians are attempting to make the Quad-City mental health center a part of their political machine, with hopes of obtaining aid in annual campaign funds, Wood River Supervisor Rodger Elble charged here Saturday.
 Elble said the move by the 708 Board to take over the Granite City clinic and change board members and employees, he said that the

Deadline Dec. 31 for JC Award Nominations

Carl J. Bernasco of the Granite City Jaycees today announced that midnight Wednesday, Dec. 31, is the deadline for local organizations, individuals or institutions to nominate candidates for the Jaycees' annual Distinguished Service Award and Outstanding Young Educator Award. Bernasco urged local residents and club officials to study the backgrounds of young leaders and educators in the community and place their names in nomination for the awards. The young men's service club's top awards will be presented at the annual "DSA-OYE and Bosses' Night" banquet Friday evening, Jan. 16. For the first time in the program's nine-year history, the dinner will be open to the public. Information on the availability of tickets and reservations is to be announced this week, Bernasco said. Principal speaker at the annual banquet will be Lt. Gov. Paul Simon. The names of nominees must be mailed to the Granite City Jaycees, Post Office Box Three, Granite City, Ill., postmarked no later than midnight Wednesday, Dec. 31.

A panel of judges, selected from among civic officials and other community leaders, will investigate the qualifications of each candidate and announce the award recipients at the banquet. Those making nominations are required only to submit the candidate's name. Each person nominated will be contacted by the Jaycees and asked to provide his own qualifying forms, Bernasco explained. The dinner chairman stressed that candidates need not be members of the Jaycees organization or of the group contributing the individual's name. To be eligible for the DSA Award, a young man must be between the ages of 21 and 35; must either reside or work in the Quad-Cities; and must be a citizen. The DSA winner will be entered in the U. S. Jaycees Ten Outstanding Young Men contest in which achievements may be further recognized and honored. Eligibility rules for Outstanding Young Educator candidates are the same as DSA nominees, with the exception that young women teachers also may be nominated.

7 Arrested in Fights at West Madison Center

Seven youths, four of them from East St. Louis, were arrested by Madison police late Christmas night as the result of a series of fights at the West Madison Recreation center in which bottles and chairs were thrown and a police officer fired several warning shots in the air in an unsuccessful attempt to halt the melee.

Each of the seven arrested was named on charges of disorderly conduct, fighting and destruction of city property. The latter charges grew out of damage to furnishings and the building at the recreation center.

Those arrested were: Conrad Crook, 17, of 1217 Calhoun street, Venice; Henry Byrd Jr., 17, of 922 Webster street, Venice; Madison Garrett, 17, of 1016 Douglas street, Venice, and Sam Lee Davis, 18, Reginald Herron, 17, Carlos D. Gully, 17, and Lawrence P. Green, 17, all of East St. Louis.

All were released on cash bonds of $100 each pending magistrate hearings Jan. 14.

Fights Broke Out
Madison authorities said Officer Leon Bland was on duty at the recreation center in West Madison during a Christmas dance that was in progress Thursday night when a series of fights broke out about 11 p.m.

Bland reported he broke up about four fights, when a bottle was thrown and a general fight involving a large number of youths was triggered. The participants began throwing bottles and chairs and Bland said he fired three warning shots into the air.

The youths ignored the warning and Bland radioed headquarters for help. As he did so, Bland reported, a carload of youths fled the center, but he gave chase.

The officer said he followed the car into Venice where he overtook it in the 1200 block of Klein street and arrested the occupants. Other youths were arrested at the recreation center.

$235 Cash Missing
Lester A. Wood, 35, Mikel drive, reported to Madison police Wednesday that he had lost his wallet which was returned to him later without his money in it. Wood said the wallet was found by a man who gave it to a friend of Wood's who then returned it to Wood. He told police a total of $235 was missing from the wallet.

Parking Lot Accident
An auto driven by John M. Kesterson, 1948 St. Clair avenue, backing up on the St. Elizabeth Hospital parking lot, struck the right side of the parked auto of Clayton B. Scott, 2320 Warren avenue, at 4:15 p.m. Sunday. The back window of Kesterson's car was covered with frost, police said.

Sideswiping Collision Results in Two Charges

A sideswiping collision in the 1400 block of Madison avenue, at 12:40 a.m. today, resulted in charges of illegal transportation of liquor and operating a vehicle without a valid operator's license against the driver of one car, Bill Winkler, 24, of Rural Route Two, Mr. Vernon, Ill., who was detained pending a hearing.

Jackie Butler, 22, a member of the 41st Military Police detachment, stationed at 12th and Spruce streets, St. Louis, the driver of a U. S. Army vehicle told police that after passing Winkler's northbound car on Madison avenue, the Mt. Vernon motorist swung over and struck the Army sedan on the left rear side.

Two Autos Collide
Autos driven by Charles F. Garber, 2433 Angela drive, and Tony Malkowicz, Collinsville, collided at 10:15 p.m. Sunday at East 23rd street and Nameoki road.
